BOMBS THROWN AT GEN. OBREGON IN MEXICO CITY

Attempt to Assassinate Presidential Candidate Fails; His Cheek Cut by Glass

Three Bombers, Two of Them Wounded, and Ex-Cabinet Member Arrested

Mexico City, Nov. 14.—An attempt was made here yesterday afternoon to assassinate General Alvaro Obregon, candidate for the Presidency of Mexico.

General Obregon's cheek was cut by glass from the windshield of the automobile in which he was riding. The windshield was shattered by the explosion of two bombs thrown at General Obregon as he was passing a point near the United States Embassy.

Companions of General Obregon in another automobile shot and seriously wounded two of the three bombers and the other man was arrested.

POLITICS BLAMED
General Obregon to-day expressed belief that the attempt to kill him was of a political nature.

EX-SECRETARY ARRESTED
Miguel Robles, former Secretary of Industry and Commerce, was arrested last night while coming from a theatre, but no reason for his arrest was made public, although some believe it was an outcome of the attempted assassination. Robles recently took a place of leadership in the anti-re-electionist party, which is now seeking a non-military candidate to run against former President Obregon, who alone was left in the presidential race when General Francisco Serrano and Arnulfo Gomez, Obregon's leading rivals, were executed on charges of instigating the recently crushed revolt.

DIRECTING CAMPAIGN
General Obregon has come to Mexico City to resume active charge of his political campaign.

General Obregon arrived at a time when the anti-re-electionist organization, which opposes him, was considering the selection of a non-military man to replace the two candidates, General Arnulfo Gomez and General Francisco Serrano, who were executed after initiating a revolutionary attempt against the Government.

MEXICO BLAMED FOR NICARAGUA FIGHTING

Hearst Newspapers in U.S. Say Money Given Liberals; Consul Makes Denial

New York, Nov. 14.—The Hearst newspapers to-day printed under a Washington dispatch that the President of the United States had ordered the release of the Washington Herald, purporting to show, with facsimiles of documents from the secret archives of the Mexican Government, that Mexico financed the recent revolution in Nicaragua.

One of the documents is a letter purporting to have been signed by President Calles directing that the Treasurer-General of Mexico pay Pedro Jose Zepeda 100,000 pesos for the purchase of arms and ammunition for the Liberal army in Nicaragua.

SECRET MISSION
Another letter purporting to have been signed by President Calles ordered 50,000 pesos should be paid to Zepeda "for expenses in the performance of a mission of a secret character confided to him by the executive."

A third letter over the purported signature of President Calles ordered the payment of "for expenses in the performance of a mission undertaken for the presidential general staff and ordered by the executive."

MANITOBANS DEBATE OLD AGE PENSIONS

Beer by Glass is Another Subject Before the Bracken Cabinet

Winnipeg, Nov. 14.—If the Federal Government states definitely it will not finance the old age pension scheme in its entirety, then Manitoba probably will enact legislation on the basis laid down at present.

This statement was made by Premier J. Bracken to-day on his return to Winnipeg after the Federal-Provincial Conference at which the inauguration of an old age pension scheme is estimated at $500,000.

DOUGLAS HOTEL CHANGES OWNERSHIP

Popular Hostelry Purchased By R. Castellani of Montreal; To Make Alterations

The Douglas Hotel, located on the corner of Douglas Street and Pandora Avenue, has been purchased by R. Castellani, formerly of Montreal, it was announced this morning.

Coming here from Montreal to spend a few days' holiday, Mr. Castellani found he liked the city so well that he decided to establish business interests here.

The hotel was bought from J. H. Killick, who took possession of it four years ago. Since that time considerable alterations have been carried out, a new lobby being constructed in the front, while in 1926 Mr. Killick opened up the Hotel Douglas Cafe.

EXTENSIVE ALTERATIONS
Mr. Castellani will carry out extensive alterations to the hotel. He plans to remodel the restaurant and in a short time will operate a dinner dance every evening, with a fine orchestra in attendance. Considerable work will be carried out on the rooming accommodation so as to make it rank among the best in the city.

The new owner has been in the restaurant and hotel business for fifteen years in Montreal and has since owned the largest restaurant in Canada, located in that city. He intends to operate a first-class hotel and restaurant here.

Man Killed in Aeroplane Crash

Montpelier, Vt., Nov. 14.—In landing at the town flying field here to-day a United States army aeroplane carrying Capt. Slight, who was carrying a passenger, crashed, and the pilot, Lieut. Franklin Wolfe, was not injured.

Winter Atlantic Flight Proposed

Mrs. Francis Grayson Planning U.S.-Europe Trip in Several Hops

Berlin, Nov. 14.—Mrs. Frances Wilson Grayson, who was compelled to abandon a projected aeroplane flight from Old Orchard Beach, Me., to Copenhagen because of bad weather and motor trouble, has no desire now to make any non-stop flight across the Atlantic.

"No non-stop flights across the ocean for me," she told the Associated Press upon her arrival in Berlin to confer with Mrs. Mabel Ancker of Copenhagen, her financial backer. "It was my idea from the beginning that we should make stops en route from the United States to Denmark, but my pilot over-ruled me. Studies of air and ocean currents while I was crossing on the liner Majestic convinced me more than ever that the development of aviation can only be served by flying over the Atlantic in several hops."

STILL PLANS FLIGHT
"I am just as determined as ever to fly my aeroplane, the Dawn, to Copenhagen. Our three attempts provided excellent lessons, from which I profited a great deal."

"I hope to start for the United States in eight or ten days and on arrival there I'm going to begin preparations for crossing back to Europe by air."

It is nonsense to say people can't fly in winter. An expedition like ours, if it is worth anything at all, must be so organized that we can go in any season."
BRITISH RUGBY
London, Nov. 14.—(Canadian Press Cable).—Cambridge University defeated Glasgow Academical rugby to-day 24 to 3. The Old Blues won from Cambridge 31 to 5.

LINER IN THE ATLANTIC REPORTS SIGHTING PLANE

New York, Nov. 14.—The Radio Corporation of America announced receipt of a radiogram at 10:50 a.m. to-day from the liner le de France at sea reporting the sighting of a white aeroplane, "traveling very high overhead."

Aviation authorities of the Long Island flying field were puzzled about the identity of the plane. The possibility was pointed out, however, that the machine might be one making a test flight between Canadian or Newfoundland points.

The Radio Company said the French captain reported the plane was traveling west-northwest, the ship's position being given as latitude 44.22 North, longitude 61.65 West, or about 100 miles south-southwest of Sable Island.

ATLANTIC PLANE IS WRECKED AT HORTA, AZORES

D-1220, German Machine, Falls Into Harbor in Attempting Take-off

Horta, Island of Fayal, Azores, Nov. 14.—The Meinkel hydro-aeroplane D-1220 lay a mass of twisted wreckage in the harbor of this seaport to-day as a result of the latest of a series of accidents that beset it since the take-off from Warnemunde, Germany, October 13 for the United States by way of the Azores. The members of this crew were rescued uninjured.

Taking advantage of almost perfect flying weather, the D-1220, in command of Horst Mez, took the air at 3 o'clock yesterday morning with Harbor Grace, Nfld., as its objective. After circling around a few times to warm up motors, the plane headed for the open sea and almost immediately the engines stopped and there was a terrible splash.

A mishap with an Associated Press correspondent which was in attendance at the take-off rushed full speed to the scene, where the aircraft was found and the wreckage buried in the gasoline-covered water.

A launch succeeded in getting the partly submerged plane in tow and reached shore, where it was found to be a total wreck. The pontoons were completely smashed and one wing was missing.

COURT TOLD CAROL MENACES ROMANIA

At Trial of M. Manolescu in Bucharest Full Penalty Is Demanded

Bucharest, Nov. 14.—Full condemnation of M. Manolescu, former Under-Secretary of Finance, who is now on trial here on a charge of attempting to bring Ex-Crown Prince Carol to Romania as Regent, was demanded by the prosecution to-day before the court-martial hearing the case.

Col. Carapancea, in an eloquent address presenting the entire story of the alleged conspiracy against the state, declared the Roumanian code provided penalties even for the preparation of a plot and demanded the full penalty.

NO GUARANTEES
He asked the five military judges of the court what guarantees there were if Prince Carol should return to Roumania as Regent—as the defence admitted he wanted to do—that to-morrow he would not be king, thus replacing his six-year-old son Michael on the throne. Declaring Manolescu's notes showed it was his intention to bring Carol back to Roumania this year, Carapancea asserted Manolescu's plans could not have been carried out by legal means.

Big Commission Is Basis of Suit

Toronto, Nov. 14.—An action for $1,200,000 for commission alleged to be owing on the sale of newspaper paper was tried in the non-jury assize court here before Mr. Justice McEvoy. The claimant is Charles E. Campbell, newspaper proprietor of Edmonton, Alta., and the defendants are E. A. Wallberg, with whom is joined the Lake St. John Power and Paper Company Limited, of which company Wallberg is president.

MALAHAT CLOSED FOR TEN DAYS

The Malahat Highway was closed to traffic at 5 a.m. to-day and will remain closed for ten days. This measure is required to permit important improvements on the road near Goldstream. Here preparations are being made for the installation of a new bridge over Niagara Canyon, where a dangerous curve will be eliminated by a large rock fill.

REMNANTS OF ARMY HANKOW ARE NOW SUNING FOR PEACE

Gen. Tang Having Fled, Officers Make Overtures to Nanking Leaders

Scenes of Terror in City on Yangtze; Renewed Looting By Soldiers is Feared

Hankow, Nov. 14.—Subordinates of General Tang Seng-chi, who assumed power in Hankow after the breakup of the Hankow Nationalist Government, have asked the Nanking Nationalists, whose approach to Hankow has brought a reign of fear and disorder, to cease hostilities and to open negotiations for peace.

The evacuation of Tang's troops has been completed and only the 30th Garrison Regiment remains. Behind them they left the body of a Hunan general, strangled at Tang's orders when he suggested the retirement of the latter.

LOOTING YEARED
The Chinese population is stricken by fear and apprehension, dreading further looting and burning by the leaderless soldiers who remained after Tang's withdrawal. Despite the terror of the Chinese civilians, the authorities have forbidden them to enter the heavily guarded foreign concessions.

Numbers of them, however, have sought safety there.

TANG IN FLIGHT
Tang Seng-chi has been variously reported as retreating westward with his troops and as having fled aboard a Japanese ship for Japan. He had been harassed steadily by the Nanking forces for many weeks.

A Nanking Nationalist victory would consolidate the Nanking forces' position in the Yangtze Valley and greatly enhance the prestige on their Government.

Before Tang Seng-chi's departure he demanded from the Bank of China in the Chinese city $250,000 (Mexican).

BANK ROBBER
His troops entered the strong room of the national bank of China in the French concession and are alleged to have stolen $300,000 (Mexican).

Prior to his departure Tang Seng-chi also ordered that General Chang Kuo-wel, Hunan commander of the Eighth Army, should be strangled because the latter had suggested that Tang Seng-chi retire. The body of the general was found in Tang's headquarters.

The British, German and Russian concessions were strongly barricaded.

China in the Russian concession attempted to repulse the soldier and civilian looters, but without great success.

The general temple was looted and set on fire. The guard at that building fire into the air in a futile effort to disperse the rioters. All within the building and the guards were stripped of their valuables and clothing.

Army headquarters in the former British concession were fired on and set on fire for three hours. The Japanese and French landed additional forces to protect their concessions.

Man On Ice In Lake Is Rescued

Fisherman Has Cold Experience in Lake Winnipeg

Winnipeg, Nov. 14.—After being marooned on a large cake of ice in Lake Winnipeg for many hours, Dan Maas, a fisherman of Winnipeg Beach, was rescued to-day Saturday by the steamer Wolverine. Winnipeg Beach is sixty miles north of here.

Maas was in an exhausted condition when rescued. He spent all night Friday on the ice cake after a vain attempt to reach shore and was twice immersed in the cold lake waters.

While fishing he became separated from his small boat. The boat was caught in drifting ice and carried away. Stormy conditions, with an exceptionally high wind, prevailed at the time and his attempts to reach shore or the boat proved ineffectual. During the night Maas drifted five miles on the ice cake.

J. D. O'CONNELL DIES IN CALGARY

Former Well-known Victoria Business Man Succumbs After Month's Illness

J. D. O'CONNELL

Word was received in the city Sunday from Calgary of the death of Joseph D. O'Connell, former resident of Victoria for many years, who passed away in the prairie city yesterday morning. He had been ill for about a month, complications intervening following a minor operation, and the end had been expected for the last week. A particularly sad feature is that Mrs. O'Connell is also lying seriously ill at their home in Calgary.

The late "Joe" O'Connell, as he was familiarly known here, was born in Lindsay, Ontario, about forty-four years ago. For some years he was connected with the Sellers-Gough Company in Toronto, before deciding to come West in 1910. He came to Victoria in the year and opened a store in partnership with R. F. Fitzpatrick.

Under Mr. O'Connell's management the firm made great strides. Later when the partnership with Fitzpatrick was dissolved, Mr. O'Connell formed a company under the name of O'Connell's Limited, originally opening (Concluded on page 2)

INDUSTRIAL AND FARM MEETING PLANNED

Arrangements Being Made By Executive of Canadian Chambers of Commerce

Montreal, Nov. 14.—An important meeting of the national executive of the Canadian Chambers of Commerce is being held here to-day under the presidency of A. M. Dollar of Vancouver. Other national councillors from the various provinces are in attendance.

The meeting is the first session of the national executive since the election of the new president, Mr. Dollar, at the second annual convention of the Canadian Chamber, which was held in Vancouver during September.

Among the main items on the programme is that of the arrangements in connection with the calling together of a joint council of agricultural, industrial and other commercial enterprises in Canada. This proposal was made by Premier Bracken of Manitoba at the Vancouver convention and steps will be taken to act on this recommendation and to bring together in conference the various economic interests of Canada.

CONFERENCES ON PRAIRIES
Another item for consideration is the strengthening of board of trade work throughout Canada, and especially at points in the prairie provinces. With this end in view, the president, A. M. Dollar, the chairman of executive, W. M. Brakes, and the secretary, W. M. Clarke, are to leave Wednesday night for the western provinces, where three weeks will be spent in conferences with board of trade leaders in Winnipeg, Brandon, Regina, Saskatoon, Edmonton, Calgary and other points.

GAS TANK WHICH BLEW UP TO-DAY WAS LARGEST IN WORLD

Pittsburgh, Nov. 14.—The gas tank in the north side section of Pittsburgh which exploded to-day was said by gas experts to have been the largest storage tank in the world, holding 5,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas. Owned by the Equitable Gas Company, the tank was used for storage purposes. The gas was piped from the southwest fields and stored in the tank, being released when the regular pressure fell below normal.

A tank of the one that exploded, located nearby, did not explode.

CHANGES IN CITY ASSESSOR'S OFFICE URGED BY COUNCIL

Retirement of William Scowcroft on Superannuation Suggested

A reorganization of the office of the city assessor, with some realignment of the staff, will be the substance of a report to be presented to the City Council to-night by the special committee dealing with assessment affairs. Though confirmation of the report is withheld by members of the committee until the report has been made to the council, it is understood that the changes suggested will involve the retirement of William Scowcroft, present city assessor, and the superannuation measure, and the appointment of George O'Neil, now assistant assessor in his place.

LONG CAREER WITH CITY
Mr. Scowcroft, who is known as "the grand old man" of the city hall staff, has had one of the longest and most active careers in the city's service, and will be one of the first to benefit under the retirement privileges instituted by the council this year. Mr. O'Neil has been connected with the city assessor's office for some time, and has been assistant assessor for several years.

Early this year the work of instituting a new system of property appraisal was begun at the City Hall. The city's engineering advisers are recommending much in use elsewhere on the continent. Some reorganization of the office to carry on the work is necessary, it is understood, and the report of the special committee will touch on the changes suggested.

GRAIN ELEVATOR REPORT
Also before the council this evening will be a report by C. D. Howe & Company on the grain elevator project. The city's engineering advisers are recommending a close study of the structure of the Ogden Point site with a view of ascertaining the nature of the base under the filling of the pier. This can be found from the data on the borings made by the Federal authorities, and other data in the hands of the city's engineering advisers. F. F. Ford, and will determine the progress of the work of piling and other work proposed.

Cable Earnings Show Decrease

Increase in Use of Wireless System Felt by Pacific Ocean Line

London, Nov. 14.—(Canadian Press Cable).—A disturbing report with regard to the financial results of the operation of the Pacific Cable, the Canadian Press learned, will be presented shortly to the Governments concerned, those of Great Britain, Canada, Australia and New Zealand. The cable radio system and wireless generally have resulted in causing a reduction in the Pacific Cable Board's receipts at the rate of $475,000 annually. It is said, and this will not reflect the phase of the business loss. The Pacific Cable Board is apprehensive that the beam station at Montreal, which will be completed shortly, will result in increased competition and will affect unfavorably the present cable traffic from the United States.

The receipts of the Pacific Cable Board for the current year may meet the expenditures, but it seems inevitable future years will show losses.

HUNDREDS AT WORK

Rescuers went to work at the plant of the Pittsburgh Clay Pottery Company. One hundred and fifty men escaped from the building with cuts and bruises, while eight of the ten others, trapped in the basement, were believed to have been drowned by the water rushing in from broken mains in the streets. Firemen were pumping out the basements in an effort to locate additional bodies.

Hundreds of firemen and rescuers were again at other piles of debris searching for victims. With a shock like that of an earthquake, the great tank, containing several million cubic feet of gas, went up in the air. It was believed the blast was caused by workmen who were repairing the tank with acetylene torches. Geo. Rowland, safety department representative of the Equitable Gas Company, expressed the belief that gas, leaking from one tank into another supposedly empty tank, upon which workmen were making repairs, caused the disaster. Twelve men and a foreman were using acetylene torches to make repairs when the blast occurred.

When the tank burst, a ball of fire, higher than the adjacent tip of Mount Washington, rushed into the air, spreading out in a fan shape.

Firemen and police volunteer workers expressed the belief that scores of persons, in their homes and factories of the region, had been trapped when the buildings collapsed.

Every hospital in the city was crowded with injured.

SCENE OF CONFUSION
The scene of the disaster was one of wild confusion. Residents of the thickly settled district rushed about the streets as if mad. Women sought their children while men delved into the debris of their homes in an effort to bring out some loved one they believed trapped there.

The force of the blast ripped down all telephone and light wires, knocked over poles and caused houses to collapse. Streets in the ill-fated region bulged, sewer and water pipes being broken.

Every policeman in the city was ordered on duty. They roped off an area one mile square to keep back the thousands who rushed to the scene.

Private automobiles and trucks were commandeered to take the injured to hospitals, and within a short time (Concluded on page 2)

EARTH SHOCKS ARE RECORDED

Three earthquake shocks of moderate intensity were recorded on the instruments at Gonzales Heights Observatory on Sunday. The first commenced at 4:29 p.m. and lasted for two hours, the origin being estimated as about 1,500 miles from Victoria, probably in the vicinity of Alaska. From a similar distance was the second shock, commencing at 9:13 a.m. and lasting for an hour. The third commenced at 11:32 p.m. and lasted for three hours the origin being about 6,000 miles away probably on the Chile coast.

New York, Nov. 14.—Three earthquake shocks of medium intensity were recorded on the seismograph at Fordham University last night and to-day. Apparently their source was 4,800 miles away, but it was not possible to learn their direction.

The first shock came at 7:23 last night and lasted until 7:55. The second started at 12:07 a.m. to-day and lasted for half an hour. The last commenced at 2:31 a.m. and was over at 3 o'clock.

Asiatics' Return To Fishing Plants Raises Big Issue

New Development on West Coast Threatens Attempt to Bar Them From Labor; Supreme Court May Place Whole Question Under Provincial Jurisdiction

The return of Orientals in large numbers to the fish reduction and packing plants on the West Coast of Vancouver Island was regarded here as raising important questions of federal and provincial jurisdiction and seriously menacing at least the Canadian Government's attempt to keep these operations free of Oriental labor.

The Province, it was explained, has no power in the matter as the Federal Government administers the fisheries of all Canada. Events of the next few months, however, may place the whole question of fish packing administration on the shoulders of the Provincial Government. The sudden influx of Orientals into the Island fish plants has raised an issue which may be a leading theme of debate in provincial politics before the end of the year.

ISSUE COMPLICATED

Complicated legal questions are involved in the return of Orientals to the fish plants. The Federal Government has always issued licenses for reduction plants and salaries with a strict provision against the employment of Orientals. Up to the present this rule has been enforced without serious question.

The recent decision of a British Columbia court that the Federal Government has no right to license canneries has brought the powers of the Ottawa authorities into open question. On the strength of the B.C. court decision the Orientals have flocked back to the Island plants. Should the Supreme Court of Canada, which has been consulted on the matter, rule that the Federal Government has no licensing power the Province would have to take over the administration of these establishments. Thus it would inherit the problem of barring Orientals. And just how this could be accomplished officials here cannot see at the moment.

MAY CHALLENGE SCHEME

The possibilities opened up by the Oriental movement on the West Coast, however, go further even than this. It is reported here that Orientals who have been gradually forced out of the fishing business in British Columbia are planning to challenge the power of Canada to eliminate them in this way. P. L. O'Connell, of Gravelly Road, who left last night for Calgary, the funeral will be held in Calgary on Tuesday, and later the remains will be forwarded to Lindsay, Ontario, for interment.

MAY OFFSET REVENUE

A decision by the Supreme Court throwing out federal jurisdiction over fish plants and canneries would probably mean a large new revenue for the Province. The federal authorities collect heavy licenses from all canneries operating here and these fees presumably would be collectable by the Province. Already the Province issues a license fee but if it took over the federal functions entirely it could increase its revenue from this source materially. Until the court reaches a conclusion, however, no action is being taken here.

The gas works, on Reedsdale Street, in the north side of Pittsburgh, were said to employ more than 300 men, but just how many of them were at work at the time was not known.

Some of the larger plants wrecked included the Union Trust Company's Standard Plate Glass Company's, and the Warren-Herbert Roofing Company's buildings.

FORCE MEASURED

The force with which the tank exploded was recounted by Government Weather Forecaster W. S. Brothman, who was seated on the twenty-sixth floor of the Oliver Building.

He said: "As if given a mighty push, the Oliver Building swayed in a manner something like that caused by an earthquake. We found the barometer recording the increased air pressure resulting. The air was so compressed by the violent concussion that its pressure became greater by five-one-hundredths of an inch."

Corporal J. McGregor, of Allegheny County, Fire Chief R. L. Smith of Pittsburgh, and officials of the Philadelphia Company, of which the Equitable Company is a subsidiary, launched investigations of the fatal blast. In the midst of the section was the city asphalt plant and there is was reported fifteen employees had been killed or injured. The plant across the street from the tank was a total wreck.

PEDESTRIANS INJURED

Even pedestrians on downtown streets did not escape the blast. Many persons were cut by glass when large department store windows were shattered.

The blast occurred just as the police courts of the city was getting under way. The magistrates immediately adjourned court and rushed the police to the scene.

CRUSHED LIKE EGG-SHELL

The Joseph Horne department store's tank, was crushed like an egg-shell by the force of the blast.

Stunned at first by the extent of the catastrophe, Pittsburgh soon collected itself and before noon relief agencies were hard at work rendering aid. Every available Red Cross nurse was at work at the scene and rescue work organizations were summoned from all parts of the country by A. K. Oliver, chairman.

Advised Red Cross equipment, including cots and blankets, rushed to the district, and he sent a score of doctors and nurses to North Side hospitals to aid the overtaxed staffs.

DANGEROUS WORK

Begrimed reemen, working within the radius through which the explosion shot death and destruction, said words could not describe the scene.

They were fighting their way through the debris-choked streets, aided by volunteer rescue workers, but their progress was slow. They were menaced by tottering walls, dangling wires and flooded streets. Here and there the firemen halted to pick up an injured victim.

When rescuers reached a point near the tank they found the large factory building occupied by the Union Paint Company had caved in, trapping all the workers in the plant. There a number of dead were dug from the debris.

on Yates Street, and being transferred to the Arcade Building on Government Street on the erection of that building. When the Arcade building was burned down, Mr. O'Connell transferred his business temporarily to the Government Street opposite the post office.

About three years ago he moved with his family to Vancouver, where he was manager of the men's furnishings department of the Hudson's Bay Company for a year before being transferred to the Calgary store, where he held a similar position until the time of his death.

COL. AYRES FORECASTS NEW BUSINESS UPSWING

Cleveland, Nov. 14—Col. Leonard P. Ayres, vice-president of the Cleveland Trust Company, and noted economist, said to-day that the country is now in the closing phase of our business cycle and will shortly enter into a new business swing.

Col. Ayres said that he believed business was now on a downward swing, but that the upward slope of the new swing will soon be reached.

on the advisory board to Bishop MacDonald, and was also State Deputy of the Knights of Columbus.

For many years he took a leading part in Rotary affairs, being president of the local club at one time, and retained his active interest in the club until he left the city.

He always took a keen interest in the welfare of the city and served for some years as a director of the Publicity Bureau, as well as being an active member of the old Board of Trade. He was also a popular member of the Pacific Club.

In 1911 Mr. O'Connell married Miss Elizabeth Maude Diment of Lindsay, Ontario, and he is survived by his widow, two sons and a daughter in Calgary, also one brother in this city, P. L. O'Connell, of Gravelly Road, who left last night for Calgary. The funeral will be held in Calgary on Tuesday, and later the remains will be forwarded to Lindsay, Ontario, for interment.

DYNAMITE IN BOMBS

General O'Bregon, who had been in the city scarcely more than two hours, was motoring with a party of friends to a bullfight. As they passed down the Avenue of Insurgents, in the heart of the fashionable residential district, another automobile drew alongside. Three men were in it. As they passed General O'Bregon's car they threw two bombs.

Both bombs exploded, shattering the windshield and damaging the automobile. A piece of glass from the windshield scratched General O'Bregon's cheek.

TWO WOUNDED

General O'Bregon's chauffeur, Catharino Villanova, immediately drew his pistol and opened fire on the bombers. Ignacio Otero, a companion of General O'Bregon, who was in another car, also opened fire. Two of the bombers, Lamberto Ruiz and Antonio Tirado, were seriously wounded. The automobile bearing Otero took up the pursuit and captured the three. The third man was Francisco Olivero.

Police said the three men appeared to be working men who were acting for enemies of General O'Bregon. The two wounded men were given medical attention at police headquarters, where their condition was said to be grave. Police did not make public any statement as to whether their companion might have made a confession.

The companions of General O'Bregon in his automobile, Arturo Orco and Thomas Bay, at first thought he had been seriously wounded.

ATTENDED BULLFIGHT

The former President laughed and told them not to worry as his face was only scratched. Perfectly calm under the excitement, he ordered his chauffeur to continue to the bullfight. He witnessed the performance as he had planned.

President Calles was also at the bullfight. When he heard of the attempted assassination, he warmly congratulated General O'Bregon on his escape.

URGED TO STAND

The anti-re-electionist organization has under consideration either Luis Cabero, former Minister of Finance; Jose Vasconcelos, former Minister of Education, or Dr. Francisco Gomez as its candidates for the Presidency.

It was said none of them had yet consented to make the race.

General O'Bregon told The Nogaties, Arizona Herald over the telephone that the bombers were political enemies, but not men of importance.

General O'Bregon notified his wife, who is in Nogales, Sonora, of the attack and assured her that although he had had a "narrow escape," he was all right. He also said his chauffeur had been cut about the face and hands by flying glass.

Germany To Enter World Markets With New Synthetic Rubber, Undercutting Natural Product

Frankfurt-on-main, Germany, Nov. 14—Important progress by the German chemical industry rubber was described to-day before the fiftieth anniversary meeting of the Chemical Industrialists' Protective Union.

It was announced that the German dye syndicate "I.G. Farbenindustrie" has sufficiently progressed with experimentation in producing synthetic rubber to apply for world patents and that synthetic rubber would soon appear on the world markets as a commercial commodity. The synthetic product was declared to be the equal of the natural rubber and cheaper in cost of production, thus permitting active competition with the natural product.

Dr. A. Von Weinberg, a privy councillor and director of Farbenindustrie, explained that the synthetic rubber was obtained by a "process," a process which has been under experimentation ever since the war.

SYNTHETIC MEDICINES ALSO

Dr. Von Weinberg also said that experiments are proceeding rapidly in the direction of discoveries of new synthetic medicines and described the latest electrolytic processes and production of synthetic substances such as ammonia, camphor, glycol, petroleum and hydrocarbons.

D-1220, ending its projected transatlantic flight to the United States, was wrecked in a crash landing at Horta, Azores, a few hours after it made its initial start at Warramunda, on October 12. The next day the plane was flown to Warramunda for repairs, and on October 14 completed the first lap of the flight, landing at Amsterdam, Holland.

At the outset of its flight the D-1220 developed trouble in its radiator. A leak forced it to descend at Brunshuettel, Germany, a few hours after it made its initial start at Warramunda, on October 12. The next day the plane was flown to Warramunda for repairs, and on October 14 completed the first lap of the flight, landing at Amsterdam, Holland.

The pilots of the D-1220 postponed their scheduled departure this morning to await more favorable reports from Newfoundland.

At the outset of its flight the D-1220 developed trouble in its radiator. A leak forced it to descend at Brunshuettel, Germany, a few hours after it made its initial start at Warramunda, on October 12. The next day the plane was flown to Warramunda for repairs, and on October 14 completed the first lap of the flight, landing at Amsterdam, Holland.

From Amsterdam the D-1220 flew to Vigo, Spain, a distance of 1,000 miles on October 16. It made the 250-mile hop from Vigo to Lisbon, Portugal, on October 18. There further trouble was experienced with the radiator and extensive repairs had to be made, which delayed the departure from the European mainland until November 4, when the 900-mile hop to Horta was made successfully. There the D-1220 joined the D-1230, and both of them had been waiting favorable weather since.

Press dispatches from Berlin on Saturday said German flying circles were getting impatient at the continued delay of the two planes and believed German prestige would suffer.

HEALTH INSURANCE

Provincial wide health insurance is suggested in a motion picture freight agent, Kamloops, asking the co-operation of the institution of such a plan. Failure to collect hospital bills, and the mental suffering and distress that is attendant on such costs in many cases led to a public endorsement of the principle of general health insurance at the Kamloops, states the communication asking city support.

The result of committee meetings during the week, superannuation, safety zone regulations, hospital bills, and a report on the holdings of the city at Thetis Lake will be featured in other reports to be laid before the council to-night. The safety zone and superannuation projects are now in by-law form.

APOSTOLIC DELEGATE IN VICTORIA FOR THREE DAYS' STAY

Most Rev. Andrea Cassulo Welcomed to Victoria By Bishop of Victoria

To be Officially Welcomed
This Evening at Ceremony at Cathedral

His Excellency the Most Reverend Andrea Cassulo, Apostolic Delegate to Canada and Newfoundland, was welcomed to Victoria this afternoon on his arrival from Vancouver at 3 o'clock.

His Excellency and his party, including Rt. Rev. Mons. Bearzatti, private secretary, Rt. Rev. Mons. Blair, president of the Catholic Extension Society of Canada, who accompanied His Excellency across the Dominion, arrived at the Victoria Hotel at 3 o'clock. His Excellency will be in Victoria during the three-day stay in Victoria. With Bishop O'Donnell were Rt. Rev. Mons. J. J. Letourneau, vicar general of Victoria; Rev. Father C. E. Evans, rector of St. Andrew's Cathedral; and other members of the clergy of the Diocese of Victoria. After the words of welcome by the Bishop, leading members of the laity were presented to Archbishop Cassulo, the party then proceeding to the Bishop's Palace on View Street, followed by a procession of motor cars all flying the Union Jack, the Canadian flag, and the papal ensign. Leading the procession were two police constables, the Victoria city police department. His Excellency was then left in retirement until 8 o'clock when the bishop and clergy will be hosts to him at an official dinner.

With all the pomp and ceremony of the ancient Church of Rome, His Excellency will be tendered an official reception this evening at 8 o'clock by both clergy and laity alike. Leaving the Palace at 8 o'clock with Mons. Letourneau, the apostolic delegate in his full state robes of scarlet and ermine, will pass through a guard of honor composed of the fourth degree Knights of Columbus in full dress and swords, to the Cathedral entrance on Blanchard Street, where he will be met by Bishop O'Donnell and the official welcoming party. They will then proceed up the nave to the sanctuary, aglow with its myriads of glittering candles, and fragrant with its faint odor of incense, where His Excellency will be presented with two beautifully illuminated addresses, one from the clergy and the other from the laity. The Bishop of Victoria will present the address from the clergy, and the one from the laity will be presented by Captain V. A. Cumul of the Military Barracks at West Point. It is expected that Archbishop Cassulo will respond to these tokens of affection and esteem, after which he will give the papal blessing. The evening's ceremonies will close with solemn benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

His Excellency's programme for tomorrow includes visits to St. Ann's Academy, St. Louis College and St. Joseph's Hospital. Before leaving again for Vancouver en route for his home at Ottawa the Archbishop will visit a number of the smaller parishes on the Island.

EARLY BUYERS TO GET PREFERENCE

Rotary Ice Carnival Seating Plan Opens Thursday For Advance Purchasers

The seat plan of the Rotary Ice Carnival will open on Thursday morning, at Plimley & Ritt's store, 601 View Street. Holders of tickets issued by the Rotary Club will be given preference in selection of seats.

More than half the accommodation of the arena has been sold, according to reports made at a general meeting of Rotary workers held to-day at David Spencer's luncheon room. Many Rotarians reported selling their entire allotment of tickets, and the central Carnival office at the Underwood Type-writer Company, 706 Port Street, was re-supplied with tickets by withdrawing blocks of tickets from Rotary salesmen.

Tickets entitling choice of seats on Thursday will continue to be available from members of the Rotary Club until the evening of Wednesday next, after which the Ice Carnival Headquarters will carry on distribution until closing time on Thursday evening. Sale from the seating plan will commence Friday morning.

SEEK TO SAVE DOGS FROM VIVISECTION

Victoria Society Members
Sign Petition to Washington

Great interest in the anti-vivisection movement is evidenced by the number of new organizations, the founding of a society in Edmonton, Alberta, being announced, it was reported at the board meeting of the Victoria branch of the Canadian Anti-Vivisection Society.

The Victoria society is affiliated with the International Conference on Vivisection, New York, which are holding its Winter meeting this week. Petitions for a bill for exemption of dogs from vivisection to be presented at Washington, D.C., are in circulation, signatures being procured locally as the Victoria society is affiliated with the International Society.

T. L. Boyden, president of the meeting, it was reported that Andrew S. McNeil, L.R.C.P., L.R.C.S., L.F.S.C., of Liverpool, England, had joined the local organization as a life member. Dr. McNeil, besides being a director of the B.S.P.A. in Liverpool, is a pronounced opponent of vivisection, inoculation and vaccination, and his recent book on the cancer problem has been placed in various public libraries as the gift of the Victoria society.

Mrs. J. P. Hodgson of Vancouver, who represented Victoria and Vancouver at the recent International Conference held in London, has returned from England and is scheduled to speak before the local society at a forthcoming public meeting. Mrs. Hodgson has given addresses on the work of the conference at Winnipeg, Calgary and Vancouver. Other public meetings under arrangement include an address by Rev. T. S. Rowe, a debate and the showing of a film on animal protection by Mrs. Hodgson.

COUNSEL CLASHES WITH INVESTIGATOR

When Frank De Wallberg, charged with retaining stolen goods in his possession, came before Magistrate Jay in remand, and evidence was heard against him, Frank Higgins, K.C., counsel for the defendant, inquired searchingly into the methods of private investigators in his cross-examination of Thomas Cockerill, bailiff and private detective.

Although the case was in progress from shortly after 10 o'clock until 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, there was still many witnesses to be called and adjournment until 2:30 o'clock was ordered.

PLEAS NOT GUILTY

De Wallberg consented to summary trial and pleaded not guilty. The charge against him was amended to read that he, on October 30, retained in his possession a radio, loud speaker and equipment, knowing this material to have been stolen. It is alleged that this radio and the parts with it are the property of Kent's music store.

Detective Walter Calveit was the first witness called. With Detective John Rogers he arrested the accused on Sunday afternoon on Cormorant Street, he said, outside his rooming house. Some radio equipment was found in De Wallberg's room.

Witness also related how he, in company with Chief of Police John Fry and Detective Rogers, took the accused to the office of Thomas Cockerill and searched the place for goods. More radio attachments were discovered there and a radio set as well, he said, in a little back office.

Under cross-examination witness said that he first saw Cockerill on this morning, Monday night, at the latter's home.

Orville E. Leach, salesman in Kent's music store, was called to identify the radio equipment and the radio set. He recognized one or two small things as having come from the store, but he could only say definitely that one of these had not been purchased. That was a little radio set, and something of a novelty for which there was no sale. He left the court to look up the serial number of the radio set in

RULING OF COURT BARS NEW EVIDENCE

Arguments Heard in Vancouver For New Trial For A.
Nicholson on Death Charge

Vancouver, Nov. 14.—By a majority judgment of the British Columbia Court of Appeal, new evidence on behalf of Angus Nicholson, who is appealing a manslaughter conviction in connection with the death April 5 last of Marshall Douglas in the Hotel Canada here, was rejected to-day. Mr. Justice McPherson dissented.

Admission of the evidence would have resulted in the court granting Nicholson a new trial.

Counsel for the appellant are arguing a number of points in support of a new trial which, if granted, will be on a murder charge, as in the original indictment.

Gordon S. Wismer, J. A. Russell and J. D. McPhee are counsel for Nicholson and A. M. Johnson, K.C., for the prosecution.

Resuming the argument for Nicholson, Mr. Wismer was prejudiced by Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald's order that Nicholson's trial should precede that of Moore as a condition to granting a severance of their joint trial.

He added that the trial judge by his remarks to the jury, had created an atmosphere of prejudice against the accused.

The appeal is proceeding.

Liquor Guards Search Yacht

Seattle Prohibition Agents Told Bottles Aboard Sueja
III. Medical Stores

Seattle, Nov. 14.—Medical permit or no medical permit, Capt. James Griffiths, Seattle shipping man, will be prosecuted if evidence of the presence of liquor in the medical chest of his yacht, Sueja III, is turned over to the prohibition unit, William Whitney, assistant prohibition administrator, said to-day.

There is no legal permit under which Capt. Griffiths could have had liquor, even for ship or medical stores, Whitney asserted. "If the case is sent to the prohibition department with the evidence, he will be prosecuted."

The yacht was stopped and searched by United States coastguards while en route from Victoria, B.C., to Seattle. Six bottles of assorted liquors in the ship's medical chest were seized.

YACHT RELEASED

The yacht was released when Capt. Griffiths explained the liquor was medical stores for the crew. The liquor was held because the permit under which it was kept had expired.

Whitney said the public health department had authority to issue permits, but there was no authority for permits for liquor on ships of the type of the yacht.

THE RECENT CONFERENCE

IN THE FINAL DISPATCH TO HIS NEWSpaper from Ottawa the staff correspondent of The Vancouver Daily Province discusses the various Premiers who have been in attendance at the Federal-Provincial Conference at the national capital and tells us that the "personality and air of stability" of "dignified Dr. MacLean have made a considerable impression."

Reports of the discussions which have taken place during the last few days no doubt have inclined all impartial observers to agree with the general statement that the case of British Columbia was admirably presented by the Premier of the Province. He obviously impressed his provincial colleagues and the members of the Dominion Cabinet with his thorough grasp of the matters with which he dealt. It does not follow that his request for the return of provincial lands will be granted or that British Columbia's plea for Oriental exclusion will be acted upon at once, although we hope they will be; but it is safe to assume that these important subjects are much more intimately understood by provincial and Federal representatives now than they were before. We may, however, confidently look forward to early action on the part of the House of Commons in regard to liquor importation and the operations of export warehouses in this Province. In itself this is vital to British Columbia. At any rate, the interchange of view which the gathering made possible is bound to react advantageously for the provinces individually and the country as a whole.

The nature of the gathering and the manner in which it conducted its discussions, particularly its complete subordination of party, inspires the hope that future conferences will be held at least every two years.
There is no reason at all, of course, why Ottawa always should be the meeting-place; more effective would they be if the capital of a different province were chosen on each occasion. The problems peculiar to British Columbia would be much more readily appreciated by the Premiers of other provinces if they could be examined on the spot. What applies to this Province would apply equally to the Maritime Provinces or the Prairie Provinces.

The rapid growth of our country, the part it is playing in international affairs, is another argument in favor of this frequent interchange of view by the Premiers of the provinces and the members of the Dominion Cabinet. The cause of Canadian unity surely would be well served by a more intimate understanding of the problems facing all parts of the country.

THE ST. LAWRENCE WATERWAY

WITH A CURIOUS DISREGARD OF facts some Conservative newspapers are trying to make out that the ambition of Premier King is to turn over much of this country's natural wealth to United States control. They see nothing less in the proposal to internationalize the St. Lawrence waterways project than the surrendering of Canadian interests to the Americans. They tell us that they agree with the terms of the resolution passed at the Conservative Convention at Winnipeg, that when the understanding assumes practical form it should be an all-Canadian undertaking—which means it never will be un-taken.

In taking this stand, of course, these journals merely echo the sentiments of certain powerful interests in Montreal which are violently opposed to the project, because they want that port to remain the head of deep water. They object to deep-sea shipping passing up to Lake Ontario; they want to retain all the advantages associated with the transshipment of water-borne freight and be free to draw dividends from the sale of power which they already control within a radius of 200 miles of Montreal.
They had no objection, of course, to the spending of some fifty or sixty millions of dollars over several decades in deepening the channel as far as Montreal.
That was an act of statesmanship; but to continue the project a hundred miles farther to Lake Ontario is high treason or an affront to Providence.

It already has been pointed out that there is not a wholly Canadian channel from Port Arthur to Port Colborne; nor can there be one. Neither can there be a wholly Canadian channel of the required depth from Lake Ontario to Montreal. Do these newspapers not realize when the Conservative Convention passed its resolution in respect of this project that if Canada proposes to be so mighty independent as not to have any "truck or trade" with the Americans in this matter of the waterways, the entire business of shipping grain from Port Arthur down the Great Lakes will have to be abandoned?

The project will give the Americans none of the power that will be developed by the deepening of the waterway in excess of that to which they are entitled by virtue of their half-ownership of that part of the St. Lawrence which is an international stream.

Power developed in Canada will stay in Canada, in keeping with a well-defined national policy. It is absurd to suppose that the Canadian Government or the Canadian Parliament would consent to share in the slightest measure its control over public works, however constructed, lying within Canada. Upon the points about which the spokesmen for the Montreal interests profess to be so greatly alarmed, our protection is in our own hands; it is inconceivable that we should forgo any rights of sovereignty. Americans will have equal navigation rights in the seaway, when it is constructed, under treaties made long ago—treaties which are known well throughout this country; and that is all they will have.

RECKLESS HUNTERS

IT IS IN THE INTEREST OF ALL CONcerned that hunters who are reckless with firearms in the woods should be dealt with drastically. Too many accidents have occurred during the present season, and the facts disclose that some of them might have been avoided by the display of ordinary common sense. The Chairman of the Game Conservation Board puts the matter clearly when he says:

It would seem that many hunters are ignorant of the provisions of the game laws in this regard. The game laws provide that in shooting deer in the woods hunters must be sure that they are aiming at a buck and not a doe. In the same way they must be sure in hunting pheasants that they are aiming at a cock and not a hen. If they took the precaution to make sure of these facts there would be virtually no possibility of them shooting other hunters in mistake for game.
When a man fires at another man and then says he thought the other man was a deer it stands to reason that he could not have examined the supposed deer carefully enough to determine whether it was a male or female. If he had done so he would have seen that the object was a man and not an animal. To fail to make this examination is a breach of the game laws which will be vigorously prosecuted. The police and the Game Board are determined to reduce the grave hazard which exists in the woods at present.

It can be assumed that most of the hunters who go into the woods of British Columbia for game have a fairly accurate knowledge of what the law allows them to do and what it forbids. Those who offend no doubt often respond to the impulse to shoot at the first object that resembles the quarry they are after. In future they will have to be more careful, or face consequences serious to themselves.

HAPPY MARRIAGES IN CANADA

CANADA HAS MANY THINGS TO BE thankful for and many things of which she may well be proud; but she may be particularly thankful for the number of her happy marriages.

London newspapers recently made much of divorce statistics collected from eleven countries. These showed that Canada easily led the way with the smallest number of matrimonial disasters, while the United States, on the other hand, had the highest percentage.
Here are the figures:

Canada: 1 in 161.	New Zealand: 1 in 24.
Britain: 1 in 96.	Denmark: 1 in 22.
Sweden: 1 in 33.	France: 1 in 21.
Norway: 1 in 50.	Switzerland: 1 in 16.
Germany: 1 in 24.	Japan: 1 in 10.
United States: 1 in 78.

It is interesting to note that divorce in the United States has advanced in the last twenty-two years from one in 17.1 to the figure noted above, while between 1876 and 1916 the total reached 2,250,069.

Apart from the interest attached to these comparisons, of course, there is the obvious evidence that home life in Canada is of a high and happy standard.

THE ROMAN QUESTION

(Italy alone can reconstruct the Papal State which justice of the Italian people. To the foreign Powers it will only be left to take note in the usual form of what Italy has done in accord with the Holy See."

THE BALKAN CRISIS

of the Great Powers to the permanent danger arising from such incidents.

make long journeys to other points of crossing. The bridge was completed in Canadian Questions and Answers

THE PROVINCE OF MANITOBA

Q—What is the present status of the province of Manitoba?

A—In population, Manitoba is the fourth largest province in Canada. Although known primarily as an agricultural province, it has made rapid strides industrially and financially.
Winnipeg, the capital, is the third largest city in the Dominion and the leading commercial, financial, distribution and railroad centre of the middle West. The total production of the province in 1925 was $215,579,620; in 1926, $266,003,388, an increase of $50,423,768. Of the recent total, agriculture accounted for $149,726,940 and manufacturing for $106,000,000.

Victoria, Nov. 14, 5 a.m.—The barometer

MOTOR LICENSES

To the Editor:—May I draw your attention to the fact that several firms doing business in this city but with head offices in Vancouver obtain their annual auto and truck licenses from the latter city instead of Victoria, in which city the trucks mentioned do their business.

I presume it is easier to make out one cheque to cover the cost of licenses for all trucks used by these firms in British Columbia, but as they have managers here it should not be difficult to obtain the licenses for the Victoria cars in Victoria and give this city its proper credit in auto licenses taken out.

RE NOTARIES PUBLIC

To the Editor:—You are of course aware that by one of the sections of the Notaries Act, passed last session of the B.C. Legislature, notaries of this Province were given until September 7, 1927, in which to enrol.
Unfortunately during the prescribed period of six months, in the majority of cases through lack of knowledge of the terms of the Act.

The Government of this Province will, therefore, be petitioned at the ensuing session to introduce an amendment permitting those notaries who by inadvertence did not enrol the privilege of registering during a period of three months from the time any such legislation is passed. Such petition is left before the Legislature and will be presented to the Government in the near future.

I was appointed a few weeks since, by a gathering of ex-notaries to act on their behalf with the object of reinstatement, as aforementioned, being obtained. It is most desirable, that when this petition is presented, all ex-notaries who desire to be placed on the rolls, as it is quite obvious that this matter may not be readily opened thereafter.

I shall, therefore, appreciate due publicity being given to this letter—either by its insertion in The Times or as a news item so that all ex-notaries on Vancouver Island, or the adjacent islands, who have not already communicated with me will do so at the earliest possible date, as the petition to the Government should be ready for signature by early next week.

LETTER OF THANKS

To the Editor:—May I through the medium of your valuable paper express my thanks for the many letters, messages and gifts which have reached me from the people of Saanich and Victoria.

I was responsible for me to respond to or accept invitations received before I left Saanich, as there was much to be done and very little time to do it.
I am therefore very anxious to express publicly my appreciation of these kind attentions. This applies very particularly, perhaps to a "group," unknown to me as persons who, before my departure from the "boat house," and a tower of roses. One little gift which touched me very deeply arrived about 1:30 p.m. just as I was preparing for sleep. It came from a children's Halloween party, a small box containing a rosy apple, some grapes, nuts and cookies. I suddenly remember I was very hungry. I was also very, very lonely, so I sat up in bed and feasted quite royally and pretended it was Halloween for me, too. I hope, Mr.
Editor, this letter will reach the eyes
of those children, my young friends, whom I shall always regard with particularly affectionate gratitude.

CONSERVATIVE FAMILY ROW

To the Editor:—May a woman voter be permitted space for a few remarks on the present little commotion in the Conservative family?

In the first place these numerous resolutions of loyalty to our popular leader the Hon. S. P. Tominer, which are somewhat of a story of the story of a boy who struffed up to another, small boy and greeted him with this remark:
"Call me a coward will you," and on being received with nothing but open-mouthed astonishment decided he had better try again in another quarter where he may in common boy language
"start something." Conservative of my acquaintance, and I hope, Mr.
Editor, this letter will reach the eyes
of those children, my young friends,
whom I shall always regard with particularly affectionate gratitude.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

The Victoria Daily Times, November 14, 1902.

Reports from Banfield cable station convey the news that the expectations of the engineers of the Pacific Cable Board are being realized in every particular. The Deafwire transmitter has been put into use and by means of it the expected speed of one hundred letters a minute has been attained.

Through the enterprise of the B.C. Cold Storage Company a new phase of the trade between British Columbia and Australia has been opened up which promises to become one of the most important features of that business. The innovation referred to is that of shipping frozen goods to the drought stricken districts of Western Australia.

The present year has been marked by extensive building activity in Victoria, representing to date an outlay of more than $250,000, with the prospect of the $300,000 mark being passed by the end of December. A feature of this activity is the number of residences erected.

Reports have been received that a party of eight or ten persons are hunting between the Summit and Shawigan Lake, and are running deer with dogs, contrary to the game laws.

Ottawa, Nov. 14.—The average cost of a weekly family budget of twenty-nine staple foods was $10.99 at the beginning of October, as against $10.87 for September.
In October, 1914, the average cost was $7.99 and in June, 1920, the peak, $16.92. The figures are given in a return from the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

THREE C.P.R. SHIPS
ARE NOW AT YARROWS

Princess Adelaide Hauled Out To-day; Charlotte Finished To-morrow

Three vessels of the Canadian Pacific coastal service were at Yarrow's Limited to-day undergoing repairs of various sorts.
The Ss. Princess Adelaide was hauled out this morning on the marine railroad for a general clean-up, approach to her propeller. She will be replaced this evening to go on the night run to Vancouver.
The Ss. Princess Charlotte, which has been undergoing repairs to damages sustained when she struck on Vich-neski Rock, Summer Strait last August, is practically finished and will be released to-morrow afternoon. It was announced this morning. The Charlotte has been at Yarrow for nearly two months.

The third vessel, Ss. Princess Marguerite is up for repairs to her stern; sustained in a slight collision with the Ss. Princess Victoria in January last.
The repairs will be completed later in the week and will be brought back into harbor to be laid up for the winter.

NIGHTINGALES ON TRIP TO AUSTRALIA

Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 14.—A romantic journey from London has just been undertaken by a young New Zealander, Angus Wilson, who has arrived in Vancouver with four nightingales which he is presenting to the Victoria Park League, Department of the City of Victoria.

In the statement issued Mr. Geary says:
There are 3,300,000 World War veterans of the United States holding adjusted service certificates (the so-called bonus certificates). Over 1,000 these claims on certificates were approved by the Veterans' Bureau, Washington, D.C., in the month of May of this year. So far a total of 33,160 payments had been made to beneficiaries of certificates and the amount paid has reached the total of $33,890,593.

These figures prove that the overwhelming majority of World War veterans of the United States appreciated the adjusted compensation law sufficiently to take advantage of its provisions. Mothers, fathers, widows and children have benefited greatly by the thoughtfulness which inspired applications for these certificates.

This fact should be an urgent reminder to United States ex-service men residing in Canada who so far have not applied for adjusted service certificates, mostly because of ignorance of the conditions under which applications for the certificates may be made, indifference or procrastination. Those who have not yet applied should do so as a duty to their dependents, if not to themselves. The time is short.
January 1, 1928, being absolutely the last day on which applications may be filed.

The adjusted compensation certificate is, in effect, a fully paid up endowment policy. If the holder of the policy should die before the end of twenty years his beneficiary would receive the full sum in cash which the policyholder himself would receive if he had lived.

Any man wishing further information regarding this subject should apply to Winnipeg Post, American Legion, P.O. Box 24, or to Gilbert F. P.

Canadian National
Net Earnings Down

Montreal, Nov. 14.—The Canadian National Railways report earnings for September and the first nine months of 1927. Gross and net operating in-

MOTHER FINDS IN TANLAC

The Tonic Her Daughter Needed

What a blessing Tanlac has proved to be for thousands of mothers! How grateful they feel when they see this famous treatment for their daughters' ailments.
"My daughter is healthy," says Mrs. G. Baker, 13 Earl St., Kingston, Ont., says: "When I think of the wonderful change I just feel like praising Tanlac to everyone. Before taking Tanlac, my daughter was dreadfully weak and nervous and had such severe headaches she was almost frantic. Her sleep was broken and restless and would hardly eat anything. But Tanlac has built her up until she is bubbling over with health and energy.
The cure is so simple, so easy to take, and so safe, I can't say too much for it. It has saved my daughter's health and my peace of mind. I feel sure it will do the same for all mothers who are troubled with their daughters' ailments. I can't say enough for it. It is a real blessing." Tanlac contains no mineral drugs. It is made of Nature's own medicines for the sick.
It is a perfect tonic for the weak and suffering. It is a perfect tonic for the suffering and the weak. It is a perfect tonic for the suffering and the weak. It is a perfect tonic for the suffering and the weak. (Adv.)

YOUR BABY and MINE

by MERTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

NOTHING WRONG WITH THIS BABY'S WEIGHT

Mrs. "Thank You" writes: "My baby eleven months old and has five edings a day. One feeding is of cereal, vegetables, broth or codified eggs, you think it will be all right now a change to four feedings and should be of these be cereal? He doesn't weigh what he should, having weighed over eight pounds at birth and now weighs twenty-one."

ANSWER
 There is nothing underweight about this baby. He is quite up to average. Four feedings a day would be just right for him now. The cereal can be given at ten and six; the broth and vegetables at two.

MUSCULAR WEAKNESS

Mrs. F. B. writes: "Can you tell me what I can do to strengthen my little girl's kidneys? She is eighteen months old, a strong healthy child, but she is wet constantly both day and night. I think her kidneys must be weak."

ANSWER

The average case of chronic "wetness" is due to too much food. It seldom has anything to do with the kidneys at all, but concerns instead the bladder muscles. The bladder is a sac which holds the urine, after it is secreted from the kidneys. When it leaves the body, the bladder begins to empty the urine as soon as it is full. When a child is overfed, the bladder is overfilled and it takes a long time to empty. It is a good idea to teach the bladder muscles better control by having the child stop voiding several times during the urination. This establishes a conscious control and after makes it easier for the bladder to retain the urine for longer periods. A self-addressed and stamped envelope will bring you a leaflet on feeding and on how you can correct the child's present diet.

Any mother may have the feeding leaflet mentioned above. A self-addressed stamped envelope should be enclosed with your request.

PRINCESS RECEIVES ABUSIVE LETTERS

Sister of Ex-Kaiser Meets With Opposition to Romance

Bonn, Germany, Nov. 14.—Princess Victoria Schaumburg-Lippe, sixty-one-year-old sister of the former German Emperor, to-day defended her attachment for Alexander Zuhkoff, youthful Russian refugee, who is to be her husband.

"Nobody's consent—not even the Kaiser's—is required for my marriage with Zuhkoff," said the princess, with emphasis.

It was a campaign of mendacity and scandal, in her opinion, which was responsible for the withdrawal of William's approval of her nuptials with the young Russian.

"It is incorrect to say that he has refused his consent," continued the princess, "as such a step would be unnecessary, owing to the fact that the Kaiser is not the head of the Schaumburg-Lippe family. In fact, nobody's consent is required."

"It is true, nevertheless, that the former Emperor at first approved our marriage, then withdrew his approval in consequence of scandalous newspaper articles."

Victoria denied published reports that she had undergone rejuvenation and beautifying treatment.

As she stood with Zuhkoff's arm around her shoulders, she looked affectionately at him and remarked: "I am only too glad to have some one to protect and love me, and I shall be only too glad to fulfill the wishes of my husband and help him in every respect."

Both expressed bitterness over hundreds of abusive anonymous letters they have received.

"For the last ten years," said the young man who plans to marry the former Kaiser's sister, "nobody cared about her. They said 'You are merely a private person, no longer a royal highness.' But now that we are about to marry, they cry: 'You are the sister of an emperor, and therefore you cannot marry thus.'"

"Of course there is a great difference between our ages. But every woman would like to be as young as the princess, no matter how old she actually is in years."

Musical items were contributed by Mrs. Archie Willis, Miss Doris Bagshaw, Miss Cecil Bagshaw and Miss Kate Edie, accompanied by Mrs. E. Wilder-spin, and Mrs. J. Anderson and Miss Mary McPhaden gave several recitations.

A pretty Autumn wedding took place at the home of the officiating minister on November 5 at 8:30 p.m., when Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson united Ellen Mildred, youngest daughter of Mr. Thomas Knight to Jesse E. Leech, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leech, Wascana Street, Victoria. The bride looked lovely in a dainty gown of pale blue, garnished with white chrysanthemums and pink roses. The bride wore a bouquet of white chrysanthemums and pink roses. The matron of honor, Mrs. T. B. Main, wore a gown of georgette and lace and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums and pink roses. Mr. T. B. Main supported the groom. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Main, 2723 Ardenbury Avenue. The happy couple left on the midnight boat for Vancouver, the bride wearing a black silk seersucker coat and handsome French model coat of grey and silver. On their return they will reside at Myrtle Street.

Equilant White Drive.—The white drive which was to have been held on Tuesday under the auspices of the Equilant Liberal Association, has been postponed indefinitely.

CLUB AND NEWS

TO SING FOR CLUB

Miss McBride and Miss Alexander were among the Victoria guests who were entertained at the Victoria Club on Friday evening, when in celebration of Armistice, members of Overseas Nursing Sisters' Club entertained at their fourth annual dinner at the Victoria Club.

Decorations were carried out in red tones. Red carnations in brass shells and scarlet poppies decorated the dinner tables and Miss E. Cameron, president of the organization, acted as toast mistress. Following the toast to His Majesty the King, there came the "Silent Toast," which was observed standing. A further toast to visitors was proposed, the special guest for the evening being Miss Laura Holland. The general convener for the affair was Miss J. Matheson, matron of Shaughnessy Military Hospital.

Mrs. Frank Briers entertained at her home on Battery Street Wednesday evening with a handkerchief shower in honor of Miss Vera Paget, a popular bride-elect. As Miss Paget entered the drawing-room, which was prettily decorated with white and mauve chrysanthemums, Mrs. Cyril Cross played the "Bridal Chorus," and little Miss Georgina Dowdall danced into the room with a pretty basket in blue and gold, following the color scheme of the dining room, and after a clever toe dance presented the basket, which contained the many gifts to Miss Paget. Later bridge was enjoyed by the guests; the prize being won by Mrs. Paget. During the evening Mrs. Gerald Seder sang. A delicious supper was served at 10:30 p.m. and included Mrs. M. Grute, Mrs. Campbell, McCreadie, Paget, Ross, Cross, Bishop, Hole, Seder, Kinley, Dowdall, Wright, Wharf, and Misses Paget, V. Paget, Britton and Hallam.

Miss Catherine Fraser entertained at a luncheon with additional guests at the tea-hour at her home on St. Charles Street on Friday, complimentary to Miss Alice Cotton, who has just returned from abroad. Covers were laid at the luncheon table for the following guests: Miss Cotton, Mrs. Rollo Main-guy, Miss Kathleen Clay, Miss Doris Gibson, Miss Marion Wilson, Miss Freda Warner and Miss Helen Macdonald. The invited tea guests included: Mrs. Church, Mrs. W. Creery, Mrs. H. T. Matson, Mrs. J. Moore, Mrs. F. J. Sterry, Mrs. G. C. Grant, Mrs. James Gray, Mrs. Cecil Laundry, Mrs. Carter, Mrs. W. Wilson, Mrs. Harold Wilson, Miss Kenneth Rayner, Mrs. J. Oostmeyer, Mrs. Clifford Collinson, Mrs. G. Paterson and Miss Jean Gibson, Marjorie and Florence Oates, Margaret Scott, Helen Forster, Mrs. M. Campbell, Mrs. V. Macdonald, Mrs. Mary Campbell, Mrs. J. Neill, Mrs. M. Neill and Annie Innes, Maile Evans, Phyllis Barton, Betty Kirk and Elaine Gallier. The Misses Marjorie and Frances Fraser and Miss Rosemary Johnston assisted at the tea hour.

Elaborate plans have been made for the annual fancy fair and circus which the City Temple will hold at the Armories, Bay Street, on November 30, December 1, 2 and 3.

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Miss Mackenzie will perform the grand opening ceremony on Wednesday, November 30, at 3 o'clock, on Thursday at the same hour, Mayor and Mrs. Pendray will perform the opening, on Friday Reginald Hayward, M.P.P. will officiate, and on Saturday Dr. S. J. Willis and B. C. Nicholas will perform the opening ceremony.

Each day there will be a programme of music and dancing by gifted pupils of Miss Mona Jewell, Miss Nellie Thacker, Mrs. L. H. Gaskill and Miss Violet Powkes, and on Thursday a feature will be made of the baby show.

There will be numerous attractions every afternoon and evening, in addition to stalls for the sale of all kinds of attractive wares suitable for Christmas gifts.

Florence Nightingale Chapter Held Most Successful Sale

Considerable impetus to the funds of the Florence Nightingale Chapter, I.O.D.E., was given by the very successful sale of work held on Saturday in the former Oldford's store, Yates Street.

Mrs. J. H. Hall, regent, presided, in a graceful little address, formally opened the fair, congratulating the workers upon their efforts, and at the close of her remarks was presented by Mrs. H. Hall with a corsage bouquet from the chapter.

Mrs. F. J. Hall, regent, was general convener. Mrs. H. Catterall was in charge of the luncheon and tea was assisted by Mrs. Baker, Mrs. Oliver, Mrs. Natchtrieb, Misses N. Jones, Nan Eve, Nellie Lott, Helen and North Catterall, "Dorothy Hornbrook, Patsy Russ and Rose Wilcox. Refreshments were in charge of Mrs. R. Smith, Mrs. Haugh, Mrs. Hsiop, Mrs. E. Miller, Mrs. F. E. Jones, Mrs. E. Webb, home-cooking, Mrs. Vickie, Mrs. S. Clarke, Mrs. J. Meils and Mrs. J. Clark. The lampshade tickets were in charge of Mrs. A. B. Hudson, Mrs. Moggie and Mrs. Fry. The shade tickets were donated by Mrs. F. J. Hall and won by Mrs. A. Gowen, No. 58. The ham was won by Mrs. Haugh, No. 176; cake, donated by Mrs. J. Baker, won by Mrs. Edwards, No. 39; cushion, Mrs. E. Jones, No. 373; candy basket, Mrs. Southwell. Mrs. H. Catterall won the capon with ticket No. 22.

Solarium W.A. Busy.—The regular business meeting of the Queen Alexandra Solarium Auxiliary was held on Thursday afternoon, in the Victoria Women's Institute rooms, 293 Union Street. Mrs. Beveridge, the president, in the chair. Mrs. Bird gave a report on the sewing and making of dressing gowns and not covers, and many members were discussed relating to the work. A cordial invitation is extended to any ladies' organization, who are particularly interested in the work, to send a representative to the meetings, pastimes, of which may be obtained from Mrs. Beveridge, telephone 7869, or Mrs. Bird, secretary, 7134R.

Doll Beauty Contest.—At the City Temple Hall on Tuesday evening a doll beauty contest will be held. To secure sufficient dolls for their stall, the conveners of the contest, Mrs. Main, have asked all their friends to donate dolls of any kind. These will be ranged up tomorrow evening to be judged by popular vote for a prize.

WINNIPEG CENOTAPH TO BE SCULPTURED BY TORONTO WOMAN

Toronto, Nov. 12.—Elizabeth Wood, Toronto sculptor, who has been awarded the commission for the Winnipeg cenotaph, is the wife of Emanuel Hahn, and a native of Orillia. Her husband won the commission in the competition conducted two years ago but was disqualified because he was born in Germany. This time the award goes to a woman who is of Canadian parentage and is Canadian born. Mrs. Wood works in the same building but in a separate studio from her husband and was notified unofficially of her success to-day.

Visited School of Expression.—Wednesday last saw the fulfillment of a long made promise on the part of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Flower to visit the Victoria School of Expression. Mrs. Flower was welcomed by Mrs. Wilfrid Ord and a large number of students and friends. She is a very fluent and graphic speaker and left a vivid impression of the work of the Stratford Players on the minds of her hearers. She referred to the fact that by touring Canada it was hoped not only to appeal to a far greater number of people but also to create an endowment fund. At present when the Stratford season is over the players receive tempting offers to join other companies. In this ideal company there is no one particular star; all are stars and change places with each other, that none may grow stale. At the conclusion of her talk she was warmly thanked. At her request several students gave Shakespeare selections from memory.

Authors Discuss Journalism.—The November meeting of the Victoria and Islands Branch Canadian Authors' Association was held in the Pemberton Building on Thursday evening, with a large attendance of members, and the chairman, Donald A. Fraser, presiding. The subject of "Journalism" was enthusiastically discussed following a clever address dealing with its various phases in John Regan was congratulated upon the publication of his second novel, "The Long Furrow," which has just come from the pages of a London publishing house.

Chance Spoken Words Made Rheumatic Sufferer Happy

T-R-C's immediately stopped Montreal man's agonizing Rheumatism

How often a word or two changes the entire course of a person's life. Tortured by Rheumatism, Mr. Zuercher, 1477 Desjardins Avenue, Montreal, recollecting what a friend had said, today enjoys perfect health. He writes:

"Suffering from severe rheumatic pains, I happened to remember that a friend recommended T-R-C's. I was doubtful, but purchased a box.

"Shooting pains were so severe in my joints that I could not even bear the bedclothes. Imagine my surprise on being able to walk around the house after taking only two doses. After taking them for a week I was able to work. Am now very well indeed."

Are you a martyr to Rheumatism? Then try T-R-C's, as Mr. Zuercher did. You may be doubtful. So was he—at first. But he persevered and T-R-C's made him well. T-R-C's go to the root of troublesome Rheumatism, Sciatica, Neuralgia, Neuritis, Lumbago—enabling your system to get thoroughly rid of poisons which cause these diseases. No habit-forming drugs. T-R-C's are harmless. A wonderful remedy. 50c and $1 at all druggists. 772

EXECUTION IN DELHI TO-DAY

London, Nov. 14.—A dispatch to The London Daily News from Delhi, India, says Abdul Rashid, who was convicted of the murder of the British leader Swami Shandani last December, was hanged this morning.

A huge Moslem crowd gathered outside the jail and demanded the body for a funeral procession. A partial strike was observed in Moslem quarters and pickets were posted at various points.

FOUND NOT GUILTY

Lakeview, Ore., Nov. 14.—Lorena Trickey, rodeo performer, was acquitted late Saturday of the charge of murdering her common law husband, J. P. (Smiling Slim) Harris, by a jury which had considered the case but twenty minutes. The verdict caused a wild and unrestrained demonstration in the courtroom. The judge's gavel and the protests of the court were drowned out by the tumult. Miss Trickey appeared stunned. For a few minutes she acted as if she was under a hypnotic spell. Cowboy "yip-yips," women's screams, laughter, cheers filled the courtroom for more than five minutes.

Typographical W.A.—Under the auspices of Woman's Auxiliary No. 65 to the Victoria Typographical Union No. 201 a very enjoyable evening was spent on Saturday in Stephen's Hall, 1250 Government Street, when a five hundred drive was held. The winners were: Ladies, first, Mrs. Hunt; second, Mrs. Hunter; gentlemen, first, Mr. Skett; second, Mr. Fawcett. The prizes were presented by the president, Mrs. W. E. Skett, after which a delicious buffet supper was served. The committee, Mrs. J. Hibberson and her committee. The next regular monthly meeting will be held on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in Victoria club rooms, Campbell Building.

Health Centre W.A.—The monthly meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the Saanich Health Centre will be held on Tuesday at 2:30 p.m. at the Centre. As this will be the last meeting of the year, all members are urged to attend.

Jubilee Alumnae Social.—The monthly social meeting of the Jubilee Hospital Alumnae Association will be held this evening at the home of Miss M. Carley, 1209 Pandora Avenue.

Catholic Women's League.—The annual Diocesan meeting of the Catholic Women's League will be held in the library of the Bishop's House on Friday evening, November 18.

Advice from 106: Shun Water, Worry If You'd Beat Father Time's Game

Mrs. Levaresso (right), 106, serenades a youthful neighbor, Mrs. Lacornac, who is a mere 90.

At 106, one should be able to speak with authority on the subject of how to live long. Mrs. Levaresso, who has just observed her 106th birthday, says the secret is to beware of "Water."

She gave this recipe to scores of neighbors who came trooping into her Staten Island home to congratulate her.

"Never felt better in my life," said Mrs. Levaresso. "But back in 1918 I sure did think my days were numbered. Back then when the country went prohibition, you know."

HER FEARS UNFOUNDED

There was a twinkle in her eye as she went on to tell how her fears that she would have to turn from wine to water as a thirst quencher proved unfounded.

"I never took a drink of water but once, that I remember. It stuck in my throat," she said.

A reputation for unfailing cheerfulness attests to the centenarian's warning against worry. On her birthday, Mrs. Levaresso placed a flag beside the gate of her home, and stood there to wave at passing commuter trains and smilingly acknowledge the greetings of pedestrians.

LIVES ALONE

Mrs. Levaresso lives all alone. Seventy-four years ago she came to America from France, aboard a sailing vessel that was en route forty-eight days. Twenty-five years ago her husband died. All of her ten children are dead except two.

Mrs. Levaresso still looks personally after the property in which she invested the money her husband left her. "We made a good deal of it, running a hotel for immigrants," she explained.

The BLUE CAR MYSTERY

By NATALIE SUMNER LINCOLN

A lamplighter, his whistle sounding cheerily in the stillness of the empty street, stopped a few feet away and running up his short ladder, turned on the gas light and departed, still whistling. "Somebody stole my car," Terry smiled grimly as he reached forward and released the hand brake; he continued to sit in that position, his attention arrested by the rear license tag on a car parked just beyond him, now illuminated by the dull glare from the street lamp. Terry's hand sought his lighting switch, a second later his powerful headlights brought out into bold relief the numbers on the white and black tag:

D.C. 1924
277-756

Terry dimmed his lights as he pulled out from the curb and passed the coupe; it had a neglected air, but in spite of the tarnished nickel and the discolored paint he recognized the car as convincingly as he had his old license tag-number. Terry drove for two blocks due north, then turned into a side street, another turn and he was running parallel to the north-bound street, only this time headed southward. He came to a corner where stood a drug store and made a small purchase. Looking about while the clerk was doing up the package, Terry saw that the store had two entrances, the one by which he had come and the other giving upon the cross street. Pocketing the small package, he left by the side door and strode briskly up the street. At the next cross block, he turned northward and continued rapidly along for several blocks, unobtrusively scanning the few cars parked in the vicinity. He was about to turn back, thinking that he had mistaken the street, when he spied the car he was looking for, still standing near the lamp-post.

Terry's fingers were almost on the handle of the door when a voice hailed him and looking about he saw a man advancing from a small doorway of what appeared to be a large warehouse. "Your car, boss?" and Terry found himself gazing straight into the eyes of Bill Bates, ex-watchman for Commodore Whitney. "Cause if it is, I warn ye, right now, not to park 'ere." And in gathering wrath, Terry exclaimed: "You're a damned nuisance, trying to park 'ere, but ye get 'ere too early for 'im, an' leaves too late, so he tole me to watch out an' see 'e. I'd a called the plice in the mornin' for he won't have no car parked so near his entrance, an' it's bin 'ere he says, ever since New Year's."

Bates's long, haggard face gave Terry time to collect his wits. "I came to see you, Bates; not the car," he stated, quietly, and the watchman stared at him in obvious surprise. "Ye know me?" he exclaimed, in a more mollified tone. "I can't exactly place you, mister."

"I was present at the Whitney inquest when you were on the witness stand," exclaimed Terry. "Also Mose has mentioned you to me."

"He has, hey?" Bates did not evince any great enthusiasm at the news. "I 'spose he didn't say nothin' decent." Terry smiled grimly as he reached forward and released the hand brake; he continued to sit in that position, his attention arrested by the rear license tag on a car parked just beyond him, now illuminated by the dull glare from the street lamp. Terry's hand sought his lighting switch, a second later his powerful headlights brought out into bold relief the numbers on the white and black tag:

"I've seen your father with the Commodore, sir," Bates spoke with more respect as he pocketed the card. "How's the poor young leddy after her faintin' spell at the morgue?" "Much better," Terry lowered his voice to confidential tones. "Was Mrs. Ruggles present when you witnessed Commodore Whitney's signature to a document on Christmas day?"

Bates pushed back his cap and scratched his head as an aid to thought. "I disremember," he admitted confusedly. "I was in the kitchen 'bout six o'clock drinkin' a cup o' tea which Parthenia had fixed for all of us, Mose too, when 'long comes Anna and says the Commodore wanted me in the library."

"Was that the first time he had seen you?" broke in Terry.

"No, sir; he give me my Christmas present an hour 'earlier," replied the night watchman. "The library is a big room an' the Commodore was a-standin' by the table near the door. He picks up a pen and jams it in me hand; then writes his name, an' says to me: 'Sign yer name 'ere,' an' I does so, an' gits out."

"Are you willing to swear there was no one in the library but you and the Commodore?" asked Terry. "I'm afeard I couldn't swear to that," he said finally. "The room weren't lighted, 'cept where we were, an' any one might a bin in the other end, or settin' in one of those big arm chairs an' I not knowed it." He looked inquisitively into the earnest face of the young lawyer. "What was it I signed, mister Terry?"

"Didn't the Commodore tell you?"

"Nary a word; he weren't givin' much to talkin'."

Without answering, Terry produced several cigars and pressed them into the willing palm of the watchman.

"Miss Whitney will tell you all about it," he promised. "What's your home address, Bates?"

"My wife and I have rooms at 323 Maryland Avenue, South East."

"He sniffed gratefully at the cigars.

"Thankes, sir," and turned back into the warehouse as Terry went up the street.

After passing around the next corner and halfway down the block, Terry darted into a wide alley and in the shadow of metal garages and wooden fences, in a more or less state of dilapidation, retraced his footsteps to the warehouse, which loomed darkly ahead. Alongside the building the alley forked to the street and Terry, his soft felt hat pulled low on his forehead and his coat collar turned up about his ears, crept softly along. From one of the area windows a light was streaming and Terry saw Bates talking at the telephone, and he hastened onward toward the street. It was the hour when busy housewives in that section of the city were preparing the evening meal and no one was about or saw the tall figure slouch out of the alley and over to the parked coupe, the door was unlocked and the key left in the transmission where he had left it on New Year's eve. With a silent prayer that Bates would remain at the telephone and deaf to the sound of the whirling engine, Terry pressed down on the starter. His collar was damp with perspiration when finally the cold engine caught and the car moved slowly away, gathering momentum as it went up the street. Twenty minutes later Terry drove into the service department of the local distributors of his make of car. "What can we do for you, Mr. Terry?" inquired the night foreman. "Want the car washed?"

"Yes, washed, the batteries taken out, and the car stored," directed Terry. Stooping over, he detached the transmission key from the small leather key book, and put it back in the lock, slipping the book into his vest pocket. "See that it is done to-night, without fail, please."

"Sure; just a moment until I give you a receipt." The foreman beckoned to an attendant. "Take this car up to Kelly—here's the order," and he handed the filled-in slip to the boy, who had taken Terry's place behind the wheel. "Now, Mr. Terry, if you'll come this way."

Terry caught a vanishing view of his car as it was hoisted to the second floor on the huge freight elevator and then went with the foreman into the outer office. Five minutes later he left the building and walked contentedly up M Street.

"Mr. Terry, just a moment—" and turning about, Terry saw the garage man running after him. "You left this on the back seat of the coupe, sir."

Mechanically Terry took the rattan cane from the youth, as he turned it about under the street lamp, the gold band, bearing the Whitney crest, shone up plainly. Terry's other hand slipped into his change pocket and some of its contents was transferred to the waiting youth, then, with a quiet "Good-night," he walked up the street, mechanically swinging the cane.

"Some class to that toff!" confided the garage attendant to the policeman who had stopped on his beat to silently watch the small scene, and the youth looked with shining eyes at the large tip in his hand. "I wish our other customers were like him."

C. H. Ludington Died In Pennsylvania

Philadelphia, Nov. 14.—Charles H. Ludington, sixty-one, philanthropist and vice-president of the Curtis Publishing Company, died Sunday at his home in Ardmore, Pa., near here. Ludington's benefactions were numerous, his most recent gift being $800,000 to endow a department of personal study at Yale University.

They were purely wedded and not in the best of circumstances. Said he: "If things don't go better with us, darling, I suppose your father won't see us starve?" "No, poor dear," replied the young wife, "his eyesight gets worse every day."

Stout man to small boy in crowded bus.—"Now, Tommy, get up and let the young lady sit down."

Tommy (insolently).—"Get up yourself and let 'em all sit down."

Lecture on Empress Josephine.—Mrs. Caro-Delville of Paris, one of the noted French lecturers, will give an illustrated talk on the Empress Josephine and Marie Antoinette at the Victoria College on Wednesday evening under the auspices of L'Alliance Francaise. The talk will be illustrated with some unusually beautiful slides of the Trianon and Malmison and other interesting spots associated with these famous characters of French history.

After selling two hundred million pounds of "SALADA" Tea in the thirty-five years of its existence, the Salada Tea Company has just established a new record by selling over five million pounds in the last seven weeks.

MADAME POMPADOUR

IS DOMINION FILM

WITH DOROTHY GISH

British National Pictures Star Dorothy Gish in Stirring Story Adapted From Daly's Musical Comedy

"Madame Pompadour," at the Dominion Theatre, the film, in which Dorothy Gish is the star, was directed by Herbert Wilcox at the new studios built by British National at Elstree. These studios, said to be the finest in Europe, should give British film production all the facilities possessed hitherto only by the finest studios in this country.

"Madame Pompadour" was adapted by Frances Marion from the musical comedy which ran at Daly's Theatre in London. In addition to Dorothy Gish in the title part, a number of distinguished players have important parts.

The hero of the story, Rene Laval, an artist, is played by Antonio Moreno. Nelson Keys is the Duc de Choiseul, a courtier in love with Pompadour. Louis XV. is enacted by the celebrated French actor, Henri Bosc.

Belotte, Pompadour's maid, is Marie Ault; Maurepas, the Minister of Police, Gibb McLaughlin; Pompadour's mother, Mrs. Poisson, Maria Beauplan; Canard, Pompadour's dancing teacher, Aubrey Fitzgerald; Gogo, a soldier in Pompadour's personal bodyguard, Cyril McLaglin; and dancing.

This is one of the most notable casts ever assembled for a British picture, and, added to the technical resources of Elstree, should result in a film which will be comparable with the best picture work in any country, a matter of very great importance at a time when British films are fighting not only for recognition but for their very existence," said an English critic while "Madame Pompadour" was being produced. It will be shown at the Dominion Theatre all this week.

Where To Go To-night

Another enjoyable programme will be played by the Crystal Garden Orchestra at the Dominion to-night. This aggregation of musicians under Director William Tickle will introduce an Empire selection composed of patriotic music and old-time popular airs, a distinct and pleasing novelty number. The balance of the programme will be up to the usual high standard hitherto maintained by this clever orchestra. Handley Wells, basso, will be the assisting solo singer on this occasion. His songs will include "The Trumpeter" and "Friend of Mine."

"BEGGAR'S OPERA"

OPENED NEW ERA

ON BRITISH STAGE

Attractive Production Here
Soon is as Popular as Ever

"Undoubtedly," says Linton Martin, critic on The Philadelphia North American, "the keynote of 'The Beggar's Opera' is found in Peachum's observation, 'A rich rogue nowadays is fit company for any gentleman, and the world, my dear, hath not such a contempt for rogery as you imagine.' The extraordinary vitality of this old play has demonstrated how shrewdly the author understood human nature in putting that speech into the mouth of one of his characters."

Before the appearance of "The Beggar's Opera," the English stage as well as the fiction was saturated with stereotyped, artificial speech and manners of puppet lords and ladies. Also during this period the Italian opera was enjoying a vogue due to the influence of George II and his court musician, Handel. The man in the street was silent and to a great extent uncared for. He kept away from the Italian operas and confessed that they were things he could not understand.

INTRODUCED AS SATIRE

John Gay intended "The Beggar's Opera" as a burlesque upon the absurdities, both dramatic and musical, of the Italian opera as it then flourished. He likewise followed the suggestion of his friend, Dean Swift, but instead of writing a "Newgate Pastoral" he incorporated the rogues, thieves, grafters and other "Newgate gentry" into his music play, and when "The Beggar's Opera" was first produced on January 29, 1728, at the Lincoln's Inn Fields Theatre, it proved to be the most successful piece ever written in the English language, as it had an appeal to the ordinary man, not only for its wit, its satire, its picturesque, but musically, for its beautiful, simple airs that were generously used throughout it. Every man and woman could sing them and that they were favorites apart from their place in the opera, is shown by the popularity of many of them two centuries after the play was first produced.

RUINED ITALIAN OPERA

The result of "The Beggar's Opera" was that it "made Gay—the author, rich and Rich—the producer, gay." It drove the Italian opera off the London stage for the time, and the idea of introducing popular songs as interludes in the comic action proved so popular that it survives, stronger than ever in the great multitude of light operas, musical plays and musical comedies of our own day.

"The Beggar's Opera" is direct from London where it has been playing at the Lyric Theatre for over four solid years, and will be heard here at the Royal Theatre shortly.

MORGANA TRIUMPHS

IN REALM OF SONG

Caruso's Protegee to Sing at Royal Victoria Nov. 29

Nature's most ambitious human experiment in devising a musical instrument is the human voice and the more one hears of it the more one admires the artificial instruments contrived by man. In tone only one soprano in a thousand can rival a standard violin or flute. But once in several moons there occurs a song recital which restores respect for the voice. Such an event was the concert given at Carnegie Hall by Nina Morgana. This voice is definitely a musical instrument with a tone pellucid and crystalline. It is accurate of pitch, pure and fresh of quality and limpid of technique. And the singer's brain plays upon it like an artist—that is to say, with style and temperament. An audience that filled the hall demanded extras too numerous to count. The varied programme began with a Garland of old Italian melodies and arias of Cluck and Mozart Modern Italian Chants followed. The soprano then turned to Lieder of Franz and Wolf, songs by Ravel and Saint Saens and airs by Chailwick, Watts, Deems, Taylor and Mana-Zucca. Such a programme is not only musical but scholarly. Mme. Morgana is a singer who carries her audience to unusual heights of enthusiasm.

Nina Morgana will appear at the Royal Victoria Theatre November 29. She is the second artist of the series the Victoria Ladies' Musical Club will present this season.

Opening To-day

Comedy Offering Has Many Exciting Incidents in Its Train

June Marlowe is practically the only leading lady on the screen who has never bobbed her hair, from the time of her childhood until this day.

It's no credit or otherwise to June herself. She has wanted to cut the mass of red-brown glory ever since the bobbing fad came in, but her family, friends, directors and film employers refused to permit the shears to touch her tresses.

Miss Marlowe plays ingenuite lead opposite Stephen Carr in "The Life of Riley," in which they support George Sidney and Charlie Murray. E. M. Asher produced the big feature comedy, which is playing at the Playhouse Theatre, and William Beaudine directed it.

Myrtle Stedman is the prize for which the two famous comedians and the official villain, Sam Hardy, strive, and another interesting role is enacted by Edwards Davis. The picture has a riot of background color which includes parades, circus, carnivals, fires and other "big events" in its small town locale.

Johnnie Walker Leads in Crime Detection Story

Columbia Theatre Offers Action Picture With Lively Setting

Johnnie Walker not only played the featured masculine role in "Held By the Law," the Universal-Jewel which is now showing at the Columbia Theatre, but he served as technical expert as well.

The story being one of crime and the courts, and the solving of a homicide in the plot depending largely upon the mute testimony of finger prints, Edward Laemmle, director of the production, voiced his intention of engaging a fingerprint expert to work on the picture with him.

"There's no need for that," Walker protested, and then revealed a fact unknown even to his associates and closest friends before, which was, he is an expert on fingerprint himself.

Just before the World War Walker was in a serious accident in New York, and spent months convalescing in a hospital. Having nothing to do to spend the long hours, he took up the study of methods used by police to utilize fingerprints as identification and testimony.

When he was released from the hospital, Walker joined the army and because of his knowledge of fingerprints, served the entire war on the Bureau of Identification.

Heavier Penalties Are Urged For Chicken Thieves

Toronto, Nov. 14.—An amendment to the Criminal Code of Canada which would make chicken-stealing punishable by imprisonment instead of a fine is sought by Attorney-General W. H. Price, who states he secured a promise from Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Federal Minister of Justice, to pass legislation permitting a more drastic penalty for this crime. Mr. Price pressed the matter of imprisonment for chicken thieves while he was attending the Federal Provincial Conference in Ottawa last week.

Chicken-stealing has become a problem in rural Ontario. It is carried on in a highly organized manner, motor trucks generally figuring in it, the operations being both speedy and on a large scale. The counties of Middlesex, Kent and Essex have been particularly hard hit.

CAPITOL IS SHOWING
CONAN DOYLE STORY
ADAPTED TO SCREEN

"The Fighting Eagle" Affords Phyllis Haver Her Opening in Big DeMille Production; From Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's "Adventures of Gerard"

In striking contrast to her role of "Shanghai Mabel" in "What Price Glory," Phyllis Haver in "The Fighting Eagle," Rod LaRocque's newest starring picture for DeMille, which opens to-day at the Capitol Theatre, has the striking part of a charming Countess of Emperor Napoleon's Court. In this role Miss Haver is said to have an even greater opportunity than her widely heralded part in support of Emil Jennings in "The Way of All Flesh." "The Fighting Eagle," directed by Donald Crisp from the script of Douglas Doty, is a screen version of Conan Doyle's "Adventures of Gerard," Of French locale during the Napoleonic era, this thrilling narrative reveals the exploits of a young and adventurous officer of Bonaparte's army. The players featured in the cast beside Miss Haver, are Julia Faye, Sally Rand and Sam de Grasse. Important roles are in the capable hands of Max Barwyn, Clarence Burton and Alphonse Ethier.

ON THE STAGE

This week's specialties at the Capitol Theatre on the stage, offer some very fine diversified talent in the form of Albert Mac Gillivray, hailed as "The Caruso of the Air" in specially selected song selections. Curry &amp; Alexander, a duo of dance artists calling themselves the "Goofy Steppers," will present some very novel and entertaining dance creations. The Capitol concert orchestra will feature the popular overture "Raymond," composed by Adams, as their special number, and will also render a tuneful programme for the picture attractions.

Stock Company to Open To-night at Coliseum Theatre

The grand opening of the Ray Bell Stock Company at the Coliseum on Monday, comes as a pleasant surprise to Victoria theatregoers. This new company is made up of seasoned professionals who have been many years on the stage. The Ray Bell company will introduce to the Coliseum patrons, a number of well-acted and well-produced three-act comedy-dramas, that cannot be equaled anywhere on this coast. The Ray Bell company comes here from long runs in the states, where they were a decided success, and were held over weeks and weeks after their contracts expired. The opening bill is entitled, "The Girl in the Case," a real live three-act comedy-drama, that will keep the patrons in roars of laughter.

There is also a new policy in the feature picture line, and from now on the Coliseum will run nothing but high-class first run feature pictures, that will keep the patrons in roars of laughter.

policy. Clare Bow, Victoria's favorite actress, in the great picture, "Wine." This is a picture that you will not forget in a long time. Also it is right up to the minute, and is sparkling with youth, beauty and entertainment. All this, along with the laugh-getting comedy, "The Goofy Steppers," weekly, and a much larger orchestra, is certain to give the patrons of the Coliseum a very real night's entertainment for their money.

WESTERN MUSIC FESTIVALS ANNOUNCE SPRING DATES

Official Syllabus Issued for Victoria's Second Festival to Be Held April 10 to April 14, Is Earliest of Dates; Adjudicators Named; Sixty-one Classes

By G. J. D.

"In musical festivals the object is not to gain a prize, or defeat a rival, but to pace one another on the road to excellence."—Sir H. Walford Davies. The dates of the Canadian Western Musical Competitive Festivals for the Spring of next year have been announced, and each music centre of the Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia has just completed the compilation of its programme of competitions—a formidable task—and has issued its official syllabus. As is the custom of these organizations the syllabus is sent out about six months before the event in order that the rules and regulations and the music selections, vocal, instrumental and elocution, may be noted and prepared by the candidates who may participate in the different contests.

Victoria, of this province, opens with the earliest dates, these are Tuesday, April 10 to Saturday, April 14 inclusive. Winnipeg, Man., follows with April 25 to May 5. Okanagan Valley, at Kelowna, B.C., comes next, April 26, 27 and 28. Vancouver from May 7 to May 12, and the oldest festival centres alternating with Edmonton, Calgary and Lethbridge will be held at Lethbridge, Alta., from May 14 to 19, the final festival taking place at Moose Jaw, Sask., from May 21 to 26.

ADJUDICATORS

The adjudicators at all these festivals are for the most part distinguished and well-known musicians from Great Britain and Eastern Canada. Those appointed for Vancouver's sixth annual competition are Hugh S. Robertson, conductor of Scotland's famous vocal society, the Glasgow Ophrean; Dr. E. C. Baird, organist at York Minster, England; Julius Harrison, professor at the Royal Academy of Music, London, and Marion A. Crawford, of the University of Washington. At Victoria's second annual competition the adjudicators officiating will be Dr. Herbert Austin Fricker, F.R.C.O., conductor of Toronto's famous Mendelssohn Choir and organist for many years for the city of Leeds, England; Graham Morgan, born in Wales, now a resident of Seattle, and Carl Denton, a native of England, now organist and choirmaster of the Episcopal Cathedral at Portland, Oregon. The adjudicator for the elocution classes has not yet been appointed.

THE CLASSES

In the syllabus for Victoria there are altogether sixty-one classes, beginning on the opening day with the public school classes, followed by the girls' and junior choirs, vocal duets and solos, large church choirs or choral societies, intermediate church choirs and choral societies, small church or rural choirs and choral societies, male and ladies' choirs, service clubs, vocal quartettes, trios, vocal solos for women and men, Scottish folk-song pianoforte solos, duets and piano sight playing, violin and violin school classes, violin-cello, instrumental trio, string quartette, cornet solo and concluding with ten classes for elocution.

DONORS OF TROPHIES

Many handsome challenge trophies have been donated by local social clubs, prominent citizens and public bodies; these include: The Board of School Trustees, the Colonist and Times Publishing Companies, the Women's Canadian Club, the Victoria School of Expression and the B.C. Dramatic School, the Rotary, Kiwanis and Gryo clubs, the Arion club, Hon. Walter C. Nichol, Mayor J. C. Pendray, Mrs. James Dunsmuir, Victoria Ladies' Musical Club, the W. K. Jameson Tea and Coffee Company, Fletcher Bros.' Music House, the Willis Piano Company, Messrs. Little &amp; Taylor, the Knights of Pythias, Far West Lodge No. 1, Victoria, The Dominion Academy of Music, the Columbia School of Music, W. H. Wilkerson and F. W. Francis.

ENTRY FORMS

The syllabus also contains the attached competitor's entry forms and it is also noticed that all entries must reach the offices of the different secretaries about six weeks prior to the opening date of each festival. March 8 is the last day for local entries. Competitors intending to compete at the Vancouver festival—many have during the past few years gone over from this city—can obtain entry forms and syllabus on application to the secretary, 334 Rogers Building, Vancouver. The address of the local secretary is 1623 Douglas Street.

REPRESENTATIVES

In connection with the local festival some interested people have kindly consented to act as honorary representatives to give information and copies of the syllabus. These reside at Alberni, Port Alberni, Chemainus, Courtenay, Duncan, Kamloops, Ladysmith, Nanaimo, New Westminster, North and West Vancouver, Sidney, the Okanagan, Squib, Port Angeles and Port Townsend, Wash., and Portland, Oregon.

MEMBERSHIP

Local citizens are especially invited to aid in the encouragement and growth of the festival movement and the progress of the progress in this centre by becoming members of the Victoria Association. A membership qualification, either amateur or professional, is the purchase of an "Association" ticket, costing $1.00, which entitles the holder to admission to all morning and afternoon sessions.

COXEY'S ARMY STILL MARCHING

Swindon, Eng., Nov. 14.—The men of the new "Coxey's Army" after warning their hands at a bonfire formed by a pile of copies of The London Daily Mail, which is vigorously anti-Red, took to the road for Mungford, fifteen miles from here, this morning.

A J. Cook, secretary of the Miners' Federation of Great Britain and organizer of the march to protest against unemployment, started for London to-day by train. Cook and other leaders slept for two nights on hard board beds with the marchers. The ranks of these men, whose destination is London, have been lessened by a few desertions, but most of those dropping out were old men who were having trouble with their feet.

MANOLESCU TRIAL STIRS ROMANIA

Government Censors Newspapers; Peasant's Party Meeting Forbidden

Bucharest, Nov. 14.—Roumanian public opinion is profoundly stirred by the sensational trial of Mihail Manolescu, former Under-Secretary, charged with conspiring to bring ex-Crown Prince Carol back to Roumania and put him on the throne.

The proceedings of the court martial thus far have proved a revelation. Manolescu's brilliant oratory has survived in the minds of the people to bring as much credit to Carol as discredit to certain political methods in Roumania. Although this is only the third day of the trial it has already had numerous dramatic developments giving new light on the country's troubled dynastic situation.

The evidence of Manolescu and others has been given with the object of showing Carol had the interests of the country deeply at heart and that his abdication was not due to any personal idiosyncrasy but to his treatment by M. Bratianu, now Premier. Scores of spectators and two of the military judges wept when the defendant described how the Premier prevented realization of the dying request King Ferdinand repeatedly uttered to see his eldest son.

CLAMOR FOR DOCUMENT
The public is clamoring to see the document, which Manolescu and other witnesses allege Carol wrote to the King, giving the inside reasons for his renunciation. This has been omitted from the Government pamphlet containing the text of documents affirming Carol's renunciation.

The leaders of the opposition political parties declare the hearing has turned into a trial of the accusers themselves and a favorable indictment of the Bratianu brothers—Ion and Vintila. The effect of the trial so far has been to intensify, rather than allay the dangerous political strife.

Opponents of the Government say the trial, which Bratianu hoped would terminate the Carolist affair and stifle opposition, has served only to stiffen the opposition.

On Saturday the prosecutor attempted to end the hearing, but the novelty of the case and the fact that at least four of the number should be heard, a request which the court granted.

NEWSPAPERS CENSORED
Meanwhile the Government has intensified the censorship. Bucharest newspapers are appearing with great gaping white spaces, reminiscent of war days.

The Government has also forbidden a national gathering of the Peasants' Party at Aldajula unless the dynastic question is avoided.

A bitter and farcical arose Saturday over the defence's demand for the calling of the former Crown Prince as a witness.

"He must come in order to prove he never thought of returning except as a member of the Regency," shouted M. Theodorescu, the defendant's expert on criminal law. "He is a Roumanian citizen and nobody has the right to prevent him from coming to give evidence. Our laws know neither exile nor ex-communication."

The prosecutor retorted: "Carol cannot return because the law forbids his return for ten years on criminal law. He is a Roumanian citizen and nobody has the right to prevent him from coming to give evidence. Our laws know neither exile nor ex-communication."

The picture was one entitled "Family Reunion." It is the work of the Brothers of Nain, who flourished in the seventeenth century.

The damage done was not extensive, owing to the prompt action of an attendant in seizing Latreille. The painting can be repaired.

Textile Industry Crisis in Britain

London, Nov. 14.—(Canadian Press Cable)—A serious situation in the wool and textile industry in this country has arisen as a result of the employers having notified the workers that the agreement between the employers and operatives in the matter of wages, which expired, will not be renewed. The employers declare it will be impossible to restore prosperity to the industry unless there are reductions in wages.

About 250,000 workers are affected. The Industrial Council is trying to find a settlement of the difficulty, but so far has not made any progress.

The operatives assert the employers have refused to grant a proposal made by them to have the dispute arbitrated.

Sooke
Sooke, Nov. 14.—One of the most enjoyable dances that have been given for a long time came off on Friday, November 11, under the auspices of the Sooke branch, Canadian Legion.

The majority were poppies made by the veterans at the Red Cross workshop. The music of Mac's orchestra was excellent and most inspiring, and dancing was kept up until a late hour.

Comrade Howard and Comrade Page formed the committee all arrangements being made by them, and Mrs. Locke was responsible for the very nice supper.

It is hoped that the Legion will continue its social activities, being a means of bringing the small community together and maintaining the spirit of friendliness amongst the veterans and their families.

NEW JERUSALEM MUSEUM
Jerusalem, Palestine, Nov. 14.—It is understood the Palestine Government is accepting a gift of $2,000,000 from John D. Rockefeller Jr. for the erection of a museum in Jerusalem. The gift is conditioned on the completion of the building within three years and the Government already is negotiating for a suitable site.

A Cooking Demonstration on the "Spark" Lid-top Gas Range

This demonstration is being held all this week on the Lower Main Floor and is in charge of Mrs. S. L. Sanders, home economist. Mrs. Sanders, besides giving a most interesting demonstration of time and temperature cooking, will be glad to answer any questions and help you with your cooking problems.

Simplifies Cooking

The "Spark" Lid-top Range is Domestic Science's very latest contribution to real cooking comfort and economy. Because one burner is made to do the work of four the "Spark" actually saves you 25% to 50% on your gas bills.

NEWS IN BRIEF

"Faithful James" is the title of a farce-comedy to be presented by the Co-optimist Players at the Crystal Garden next Friday evening.

Samuel Hirsch pleaded guilty to a charge of passing a standing street car and paid a fine of $15 in city police court today. R. F. Ingram was fined $10 for turning his automobile in the middle of a block.

A supper dance in cabaret form will be held each Wednesday evening at the Crystal Garden. Tables may now be reserved for the first of these dances to be held on Wednesday evening, November 16.

The Oakland Parent-Teacher Association will have their regular monthly meeting to-night at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium. The speaker will be W. H. Stokes. Frank Merryfield will entertain with his conjuring act.

Members of Victoria Lodge No. 1 Odd Fellows, will hold their regular monthly meeting this evening, when special business will be discussed. The degree team will report to the team captain for instructions not later than 8:30 o'clock this evening.

This evening at 6:30 o'clock the men of Emmanuel Baptist Church will meet in the schoolroom for supper, after which J. B. Clearhouse will give a short address. George H. Gray will render solo and an enjoyable evening is expected.

Irene McDonald was allowed out on cash bail of $200 when charged in city police court this morning with being keeper of a disorderly house. Ellen Le Mar and J. Henderson were charged as inmates and allowed out on $50 bail apiece. R. C. Lowe appeared for the three defendants.

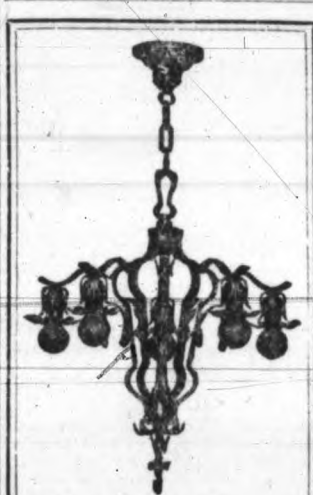

Dr. Victor Dolmage will speak on the Finlay River district of British Columbia on Tuesday, November 15 at 8 p.m. in the hall of the British Columbia Union Building. The address will be illustrated with lantern slides and is given for the Vancouver Island Prospector's Association. It is free and an invitation is issued to the public to attend.

PREMIER TO BE BACK THURSDAY

MacLean and Ministers Will Start Active Preparations For Session

Premier MacLean is expected at the Parliament Buildings some time Thursday, following his trip to Ottawa to attend the Interprovincial Conference. Attorney-General Manson, who also attended the conference, will reach here a few days after his chief. The reassembling of all members of the Government will be followed by cabinet meetings which will prepare for the forthcoming session of the Legislature, slated to start in the first part of January.

The date of the session will be fixed shortly after the Premier's return, it is expected. Already preparations for the meeting are well under way. So far no very important legislation has been forecast.

Charged in the city police court this morning with assaulting George Stinson with a weapon, and stabbing him in the shoulder, David Elliott was remanded until Thursday and bail of $2,000 was set by Magistrate Jay at request of counsel, R. C. Lowe.

The trouble, said C. L. Harrison, city prosecutor, arose out of a debt which was owed by Stinson to Elliott. It was a small debt, he said.

Final Rush on In Contest For Letter Prizes

The final forty-eight-hour rush which got under way today in the boys' and girls' letter writing contest, indicates that competition is keen in the battle for the $50, $30 and $20 cash prizes.

Letters this morning poured into contest headquarters at the New Method Laundries, 947 North Park Street, showing that many have used their spare time at the end of the week to put in a bid for the prizes. As letters will be received as long as they are post-marked before midnight Tuesday, November 15, late ones are still getting into the contest to-day and are telephoning requests to the New Method Laundries for free copies of the booklet of rules and suggestions that is being sent out.

The contest committee again called attention to the fact that letters, which are on the subject of "Why the Laundry Should Do My Washing," must not be more than 300 words long.

UNOCCUPIED HOUSE IS RAZED BY FIRE

Dwelling Owned by W. E. Wilson, at 447 Constance Ave., Burns to Ground

Obtaining a good hold before firemen arrived on the scene, fire of unknown origin razed a vacant house at 447 Constance in an early morning fire today.

The alarm was turned in to the Esquimalt fire department at 5:30 a.m. and an engine responded immediately to find there was little opportunity of saving the building.

The fire department was successful in saving the house of R. A. Willing, 451 Constance Avenue, the roof of which was damaged from sparks from the adjoining blaze.

The unoccupied house, a one-story building, was owned by W. E. Wilson, secretary of the Victoria School Board, and was valued at $1,500. It was partly covered by insurance. There was no furniture inside.

Chief of Police John Akerman conducted the fighting of the fire.

OBITUARY

The remains of the late Capt. Fredrick Anderson were laid to rest Saturday afternoon in Ross Bay Cemetery, the funeral taking place from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. at the funeral home of J. B. Clearhouse, 1010 Broadway. Relatives, brothers, Odd Fellows and a large gathering of friends attended the services at the chapel and graveside. The casket was surrounded with many floral pieces which testified to the popularity of the late Mr. Stockand. The hymn, "Peace, Perfect Peace," was sung. The following members of the I.O.O.F. acted as pallbearers: William McKay, R. Lawson, H. Clark, A. McCabe, J. W. Dobbie and A. Sedgley. The Odd Fellows' burial rites were read at the graveside by J. W. Dobbie and A. Sedgley, chaplains. The body was laid to rest in the Colwood Cemetery.

Funeral services were held last week over the remains of Mrs. Jane Ann Gilliland, wife of Alexander Gilliland, who died suddenly at her home at Port Alberni on Sunday, November 7, in her seventy-first year. She was born in Kingston, Ontario, and had been a resident of British Columbia for thirty-six years, residing at Port Alberni for the last five years. She is survived by her husband, three sons, James B., Ioco, Claude and Clifford, Port Alberni; two daughters, Mrs. Nelson, Vancouver, Mrs. Joseph Martin, Victoria, and two sisters, Mrs. Lottie Wells, Ketchikan, Alaska, and Mrs. Cynthia Kemp, Los Angeles, Cal.; one brother, E. H. Bennett, Hazelton, B.C. The funeral took place from the family residence, services being conducted by Rev. Mr. Redman. The pallbearers were: W. Richardson, Fred Bland, F. G. Weaver, D. W. Wainwright, J. T. Blundell and F. H. Steele.

SHELLY'S LIMITED INVITES INSPECTION

Victoria Plant to Hold Open House Four Days Next Week

Growth of Business is a Romance of B.C. Industry

The romance of the upbuilding of a British Columbia bakery industry from a small beginning twenty years ago in a single store on Tenth Avenue, Vancouver, to a chain of model scientific bakeries running from Victoria to Regina, will be told patrons of Shelly's Limited this week, when the Victoria plant, at 2629 Prior Street, will keep open house for visitors.

The growth of the business from a single store in a confined quarter of Vancouver to larger premises, with the subsequent expansion by the extension of branches in Victoria, Nanaimo, New Westminster and North Vancouver, and then the creation of the prime chain at Calgary, Lethbridge, Moose Jaw and Regina, followed the development of the business from a modest beginning. From the manufacture of white bread, to the present-day manufacture of many breads, cakes, cookies and other table delicacies, the story is one of modern service, supported by considerable volume of favorable comment to the products of scientific manufacture.

Recently Shelly's Limited drew Canadian attention with a fine series of historical sketches of their advertising medium. This series was devoted to the history of British Columbia from Crown colony days, and drew a considerable volume of favorable comment to the products it advertised.

Now the firm is instituting the "Come and See for Yourself" plan of establishing confidence among the buying public and are holding open house gatherings at all their branches in the Canadian West.

The Vancouver house-warming has just been completed, with over 19,000 housewives making a call at the model plant in that city.

Next week from 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, the Victoria plant will be open for inspection. Guides will be on hand to take visitors through the premises, where they will see the bread and other products in the making, from the dough to the finished article.

No less of a romance is the actual making of the bakery products, that story being told in terms of silent electrical servants, spotless cleanliness and scientifically-timed processes, with moving trays, gradual temperatures and all that modern laboratory science can instill into successful production.

Roy A. Hunter, advertising manager of the Canadian Bakeries Limited, Vancouver, visiting Victoria today, told of the open house held for two weeks at the Vancouver plant. Over 19,000 people went through the plant and undoubtedly saw a revelation to them. The system is the same throughout the whole of the all Canadian Bakery chain, which includes plants at Vancouver, Victoria, New Westminster, Nanaimo, Calgary, Lethbridge, Moose Jaw, Regina and Swift Creek.

Perfect cleanliness is an outstanding feature. Timing by electricity, pasteurization, control of every process and thermometers for recording temperatures provide for purity and eliminate possibility of errors.

The thermometer has made the greatest contribution to the baking industry," Mr. Hunter said. "From the time the flour comes in until it goes out as bread, the thermometer is over it. The thermometer is in the mixer, in the oven, in the pasteurizer and pasteurization made a wonderful contribution to the baking industry, which is the seventh on the American continent."

Mr. Hunter was cordial in his invitation to inspect the plant. "It is open house, starting to-morrow from 7 o'clock to 9 o'clock in the evening. Everybody is welcome," he said. "Send us your faces and cookies in their hands."

Minstrel Boys All Busy At Rehearsals For Kiwanis Show

BY A VICTORIAN

"For real honest-to-goodness enthusiasm, the Kiwanian minstrel boys will take some beating." So said a well-known local citizen to the writer the other day, and he continued:

"I telephoned Carl Stocker yesterday to remind him of an important committee meeting. 'Very sorry, old man,' he said, 'but I can't attend any committee meetings until after the show. I'll be busy with the show for the next ten days.'"

"After I left Carl, I ran into Tom Kelway. 'What time of the show is to-morrow, Tom?' I asked. 'Please don't talk golf to me until the minstrel show is over,' he expostulated.

"Next, who should I meet but Cecil Heaton. 'Hello, old chap,' I said, 'to-morrow night I should like you to come.' 'No,' he interrupted, 'impossible. I'm busy with the minstrel show.' 'Now, think of it, that spells real enthusiasm. I wonder if they are all so pre-occupied as the three I have been speaking to? So I made it my business to call upon one or two other Kiwanian darters with bogus propositions for parties, meetings and so forth. I was met with an emphatic refusal in every case. 'Relaxing every night. 'Too busy practicing for the show.' I tell you these fellows deserve to be encouraged. A full house at every performance is the least the public can do to show their appreciation and they'll get it too."

"Just before I met you," he continued, "I was talking to the Kiwanian minstrel boys. They had postponed a trip to the mainland until after the Kiwanian minstrel show. 'So you're a minstrel too,' I suggested. 'No,' he replied, 'I'm not even a Kiwanian. I say, I wouldn't miss that show. No, sir, I've never missed one since they started. They certainly put up a first class show.'"

"So, you see, Victoria and his wife, and the kiddies too, will monopolize the Royal Victoria for three night to-

DUO-ART

"I AVAIL myself of this opportunity to congratulate you again on your splendid achievement in the production of the Duo-Art Piano. This instrument is, without question, greatly superior to any other of its kind, and I shall be glad, indeed, to have my playing reproduced with such manifest fidelity."

"Very sincerely,"

"I. J. PADEREWSKI"

An Investment in Gladness

Although it is impossible to measure in terms of money value the charm of soul-inspiring, immortally beautiful music, it has yet a great worth that is of the utmost significance. The Duo-Art brings to every home that mental health of eased repose, carefree enjoyment and rejuvenation of spirit—it has been aptly expressed "an investment in gladness."

There is no object in your home in which you will take more lasting pride, for as everyone knows, the Duo-Art is obtainable only in those pianos which have attained a position of world renown. These pianos are the Steinway, Steck and Weber. They are to be seen in our music rooms in both upright and grand designs. Prices are from as low as towards the end of the month, the twenty-first to the twenty-third, to be precise. Am I going, did you say? Of course I'm going. Aren't you?" I assured the gentleman that I was.

Few realize the work involved in the production of a show such as the Kiwanian minstrel stage. As early as midsummer the troupe began rehearsing. Lately the rehearsals have doubled in frequency.

Business manager Corcoran reports that everything is in excellent shape for the first performance and that Kiwanians are full of confidence that the show will be a great success. Tickets are already in great demand. The show can be secured from all Kiwanians, or at the leading local stores. The show is under the distinguished patronage of His Honor, the Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia and Miss Mackenzie.

Old age pensions will be the subject of an address to be given by a member of the Old Age Pension Board before the Victoria Trades and Labor Council on Thursday at 8 o'clock; it was announced to-day by Alderman E.

S. Woodward. The meeting will be held at King's Hall, Lower Yates Street, and will be given over to an explanation of the new pension measure instituted by the Federal and Provincial authorities in Canada.

DIRECTORS APPROVE WORSTED MILL PLAN

Chamber of Commerce Board Adopts Plan as Outlined By City Council

Directors of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce at a special meeting this morning approved the worsted mill proposal, and recommended that the City Council be asked to place the necessary by-law before the ratepayers of Victoria.

The meeting unanimously adopted the report of the special committee of the industrial group of the chamber, under the chairmanship of John Wood, who spent considerable time investigating the worsted mill proposal. The directors were of the opinion that the worsted mill plan was one of the best industrial proposals to be placed before the Victoria voters.

Major Outburt Holmes, chairman of the industrial group of the City Council, set forth in detail every phase of the proposal lauding the capability of John Moore of Bradford, England, who has been in the business for a great many years and who proposes to transfer his machinery to Victoria to establish a mill in this city.

It was brought out during the meeting that local investors have raised the greater amount of the capital required and the balance is assured.

The directors were told Canada was an excellent market for worsted mill products through the fact that there were none of these mills in Canada at the present time. The establishment of a mill in Victoria might easily mark the rising of another industry in this Dominion. At present Canada imports practically all her worsted products from Great Britain.

"Probably on Thursday night a public meeting will be held at the Chamber of Commerce at 8 o'clock when the worsted mill proposal will be explained in all its phases to the general public."

Georgia Gridiron Eleven Is Only One Remaining Unbeaten

Crushing Defeat of Notre Dame Biggest Upset in Saturday's U.S. Rugby

New York, Nov. 14.—Of all the embattled college gridiron legions from coast to coast and gulf to border, the University of Georgia stands out to-day as the only major eleven neither defeated nor tied.

Princeton and Tennessee stood alongside Georgia with spotless slates before Saturday's fray, but before it was over Tigers had yielded to the spectacular finishing spurt of Yale, 14-6, while Tennessee had its march checked by a 7-7 deadlock with Vanderbilt as the Georgians easily disposed of Clemson.

BIGGEST UPSET

Army's smashing 18-0 victory over Notre Dame, was probably the biggest "dope" upset of the day. But not far behind it was Stanford's jolt at the hands of little Santa Clara on the Pacific Coast by a score of 13-8.

Yale's dramatic last period triumph over Princeton shoved the Eli's into a pre-eminent position in the Eastern fold. Illinois, brushing aside Chicago, is undisputed leader of the Western conference, and needs only a triumph over Ohio state this Saturday to clinch the title.

MISSOURI IN LEAD

Missouri, disposing of a rival Iowa state team last Friday, holds the Missouri Valley conference peak, with Nebraska as runner-up. In the southwestern conference, the Texas Aggies, adding Rice to their victims, have an edge over Southern Methodist and Arkansas in the standing.

The Pacific Coast conference still finds Southern California and Stanford as rivals for the title.

The Rocky Mountain conference leader, Colorado Aggies and Colorado

New Hudson Tunnel Exceeds Set Capacity

New York, Nov. 14.—The Holland Tunnel under the Hudson River between New York and New Jersey took in $22,500 in tolls, during its first day of operation yesterday. A maximum of 2,200 vehicles per hour entered the tunnel although the estimated capacity was set at 1,900.

College, kept pace by defeating tail-end opposition.

KELOWNA TEAMS WIN

Revelstoke, B.C., Nov. 14.—Kelowna took two games from local teams in two exhibition basketball games played here Saturday night. The score of the seniors was 33-26, while the intermediate "A" game went 47-16. These were the first games of the season, and inaugurated the 1927-28 playing season.

Keating

Keating, Nov. 14.—The Ladies' Aid of the South Saanich United Church held a busy meeting for the month of November in the church parlor on Thursday afternoon, the president, Miss Lillian Deslog, being in the chair. The aid will hold a sale of home-cooking in David Spencer's Limited on Saturday morning, November 26, and final plans for this were arranged.

AND THE LAST SHALL BE FIRST!

Last in this picture of the start of the Riggs Handicap at Pimlico, Baltimore, was Bostonian, Workman up (circle, above). But when the wire was reached, as viewed below, he was first—and winner of a $25,000 purse.

Plans were discussed for the annual Christmas treat for the children of the Sunday school which will be held some afternoon between Christmas and New Year. The annual donation towards the church fund was also discussed.

Misses Blanch and Janet Sherring were hostesses to the South Saanich Junior Institute on Saturday afternoon when the monthly meeting took place at their home. There was a large attendance of members, and Miss Doris Michell presided. The report of the recent concert and dance held by the club was read by the secretary, Miss Janet Sherring, and proved very gratifying. The secretary also reported that a letter of thanks had been sent to Mrs. Travis for her kind and untiring assistance in directing the play at the concert. The annual Christmas treat for the children to be given by the Women's Institute was discussed, and it was decided that assistance be given by the club toward the event again this year. The sum of $10 was voted as a donation towards the festival at Christmas, to be given either in money or needed articles. The election of officers for 1928 will take place at the December meeting, which will take place at the home of Miss Christie MacNab. At the close of the meeting afternoon tea was served by the hostesses and a social half hour was enjoyed.

Capt. J. Whitley returned to his home on Telegraph Road after spending the past six months on the Labrador Coast, Quebec.

The South Saanich Farmers' Institute will meet in the Temperance Hall on Thursday evening, November 17, when Mr. Straight of the Experimental Farm will address the members on "Tobacco Growing and Other Experiments."

The Women's Institute will meet on Thursday evening, November 17, in the institute room at the Temperance Hall. Mrs. H. T. Parnell will tell the members of her recent trip to the Peace River district.

Three games of basketball were played in the Temperance Hall on Friday evening, and although the crowd was not as large as usual, owing to the inclement weather, the games were very exciting; the home teams going down to defeat in each game, although the senior game required an overtime period to decide the winner. The visiting teams from Victoria were the Redbirds (ladies), the Centennial intermediates and the U.M.D. seniors. Refreshments were served after the game and dancing concluded the evening. Ron Smith's orchestra being in attendance. The lineup was as follows:

Redbirds—Jean Milliken, W. Foubister, Ina Foubister, Biddy Boyce, Emily Wood, Thelma Westcott—34 points.

Keating girls—Nellie Styan, Alice Styan, Doris Michell, Winnie Griffiths, Jessie Griffiths—12 points.

Centennial—G. Craig, Rogers, Bird, W. Jones—42 points.

Keating intermediates—F. Sutton, G. Michell, N. Tanner, W. Tanner, S. Bickford, M. Bickford—35 points.

U.M.D.—B. Crombie, H. Masich, S. Mitchell, B. Marchant, C. Grant, C. Brinkman, D. Blair.

Keating seniors—S. Bate, R. Michell, A. Bickford, M. Bickford, C. Cunningham, F. Sutton.

Sidney

Sidney, Nov. 14.—The armistice dance held in Berquist's Hall on Friday evening proved to be one of the most successful dances that has been held during the year. Despite the severe weather nearly fifty couples turned out and danced to the up-to-date music which was supplied by Schofield's three-piece orchestra. Just before midnight the happy throng were invited into the dining-room and seated at two large nicely decorated tables. After an elaborate supper had been partaken of, dancing was again indulged in, and continued briskly until 2 o'clock in the morning. The committee in charge, Messrs. J. Gilman, S. J. Pearce, R. Styan, F. A. Richards, C. Woods and A. Gibbons, deserve credit for the manner in which the evening's entertainment was carried out. Mrs. J. Gilman, Mrs. F. A. Ricketts and Mrs. C. Woods were the committee who so ably managed the affairs of the dining-room. The financial end of the affair was a success, and the committee announce that the proceeds would be turned over to the North Saanich branch of the Canadian Legion for the fund for relieving destitute persons and their dependents. It is the intention of the committee to hold another dance early in December, the proceeds of which will be given to the Solarium.

The weekly card party of the North Saanich Social Club was held in the club hall on Saturday evening. Progressive five hundred was played at thirteen tables, prizes being awarded for the evening's play to Miss Iris Hearn and Clifford Hill, who won in a cut of the cake from C. Crawford. Refreshments were then served by the ladies of the club. Dancing was then indulged in for the remainder of the evening, for which music was ably supplied by Miss Florence Hambley and B. Boshier. Dancing lessons for the children of club members will be held every afternoon in the club hall from

News Reports Most Reliable, Agencies Find

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 14.—The Globe in an editorial note says: "Carl Sauberg, the claim representative of the Phoenix Mutual Life Assurance Company, says: 'The press is often condemned for exaggeration and inaccuracy, but it has been my experience that the average newspaper reporter obtains and preserves better than any public agency which comes in contact with the accidental death record, a record which the inspector can at least commence his investigation.' Such testimony from such a source needs no comment."

3.30 to 4.30. The old-time dances will be taught. Children wishing to join the class are asked to bring light slippers with them.

The regular monthly meeting of the evening branch of the Women's Auxiliary of Holy Trinity and St. Andrew's will be held on Monday evening, November 14, at the home of Miss Clara Nelson, Deep Cove.

Mrs. A. W. Holland, Third Street, entertained at a party on Friday afternoon, from 3 to 6 o'clock in honor of her daughter, Gwen's tenth birthday. The afternoon was spent very joyfully in games, and then all the young guests were ushered to the table, which had been beautifully decorated. The lovely birthday cake with ten candles, which centred the table. After this delightful repast was over games were again indulged in until time came all too quickly for the happy little folks to depart for their homes. The invited guests included the Misses Irene Long, Mary Taylor, Mary Brennan, Isabella Hustable, Grace King, Mona Cowell, Masters Gerald McNaught, Donald Williamson, Tommy Ripe and Barton Lees.

All arrangements have been completed by the Guides and Brownie Association for the tea and sale of novel-

Before the Last Leaf FALLS

You can be settled in that little home you've been wanting to buy. Think of the joy of raking up the leaves from your own lawn. And you'll be tinkering with this and that and happily whistling because it's yours—all yours—and near the "kiddies" school.

You can know all this joy if you'll turn to the real estate columns of to-day's Times and choose any one of the little homes listed for sale there. You can buy most any one of them with a small down payment, often as low as $250 and terms to suit.

Act quickly and you can be snugly settled long.

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

"Of all the queer things in the world," said Scouty, as the ladder curled and rose real slowly in the air, "this is the queerest yet. That long rope ladder seems alive. How lucky we were to arrive. If we just keep our eyes on it, 'twill do some stunts, I'll bet."

The ladders sat upon the ground and watched the ladder move around. It floated lightly on the breeze, and stayed right near at hand. "That's sure as queer as it can be," said Copy, "and it puzzles me what makes it stay up in the air. I cannot understand."

"You're not so dumb as that, I hope," snapped Clowny. "That's a magic rope. Of course it does a lot of things that mystify us all. But I know why it stays up there. It must be lighter than the air. And anything that's lighter, floats. That's why it doesn't fall."

And then a soft voice, in the air, exclaimed, "Your explanation's rare, but even so, it's very wrong. That ladder's in my power. It always does just as I say. I make it float, and make it play. Why, I can keep it sailing 'round a minute, or an hour."

The ladders looked around to see just who the whispering man could be. "I cannot find a soul," said one. "I'll bet he's trying to hide." The voice then said, "Oh, that's all right. I always stay far out of sight. Say, if you think the ladder's nice, why don't you take a ride?"

The thought gave all the bunch a thrill. "If it's all right, you bet we will," said Clowny. Then he grabbed the rope and pulled it down near earth. The whole bunch shortly climbed aboard, and in the air the ladder soared. Said Copy, "We must all hang on for all that we are worth."

TO-MORROW'S HOROSCOPE

"The Stars Incline, But Do Not Compel"

(Copyright)

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 15

Menacing stars govern this day, according to astrology, which finds the possibility of accidents increased.

Under this direction of the stars fires may be more than commonly numerous and losses to property very large.

Again the seers prophesy a disaster to a city, which will sustain great damage in the coming winter.

This is read as an especially unfavorable direction of the stars for women, who will be wise to maintain a neutral attitude of mind.

It is read as an inauspicious way for women who desire to push personal or business ambitions.

Politics at this time may be peculiarly disappointing and perplexing to women voters or women aspirants to prominence.

Theaters may find this a day of difficulties, for under this government of the stars new plays may be revealed as weak or worthless.

This is read as an unlucky time for love affairs, making for broken engagements and disillusioned suitors.

As a wedding-day seers read this as presaging many ups and downs, with domestic misunderstandings frequent.

Society is subject to planetary influences that appear to promise a return to formal and strictly conventional standards of behavior.

New leaders are to rise in the United States where the seers foretell a growth of class consciousness and the development of a strong aristocracy.

It is well to be cautious while this configuration prevails as accidents are easily precipitated.

Persons whose birthdate it is should not speculate in the coming year. Eye troubles should be watched. Children born on this day probably will lead happy, successful lives. They are likely to be determined in character and exceedingly independent.

Army Instructors In Bolivia Are Now Subjects of Protest

Santiago, Chile, Nov. 14.—La Nacion, the official government newspaper, says it has learned from semi-official sources that the Ministers of Great Britain and France to Bolivia have protested to the Bolivian Government against the employment of German army officers as instructors in the Bolivian army, in violation of the Versailles Treaty.

The newspapers says further that the officers, participating such a protest, first became citizens of the Free State of Danzig, in order that the Bolivian Government could justify itself in employing them on the ground that they were no longer German citizens. All of the officers, the paper says, served in the World War.

A memorandum is being prepared by the Bolivian Government, according to La Nacion, in which explanations will be given in detail to London and Paris.

BRIG-GEN. F. E. BARKER DIED

St. John, N.B., Nov. 14.—Word was received here to-day of the death in England of Brigadier-General F. E. Barker, aged fifty-nine, only son of the late Sir Frederick Barker of St. John, sometime Chief Justice of New Brunswick.

The new milkman was a rather bashful young man, but he was most anxious to please—his clients. An elderly lady appeared at the door of a grand house which he served, and haughtily put the question, "How much is my milk bill?" The young man blushed and stammered: "Begun yer pardon, mam, but—me name's Jim."

Head of $200,000,000 Concern Gets His Greatest "Kick" Out of Riding On a Roller Coaster

Nicholas M. Schenck, twenty years without a vacation, a man who directs the policies and movements of a $200,000,000 concern, gets his biggest pleasure "kick" out of the breathless drops and curves of an amusement park roller coaster.

Schenck recently became head of the Loew theatrical enterprises. The Loew properties include more than 300 theatres in a hundred cities, and the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer motion picture company.

FOLLOWS LOEW

Until three years ago, Schenck was vice-president of the Loew organization. Upon the retirement of Marcus Loew because of illness, he was made executive vice-president. When Marcus Loew died, a few weeks ago, Nicholas Schenck succeeded to the presidency.

Every morning finds Schenck at his desk in the Loew State Building, above the clattering traffic of Times Square in New York. During the Summer, almost every evening finds him at Palisades Amusement Park, which he owns jointly with his brother, Joseph Schenck. There he unfailingly takes a whirl on one of the many riding devices, whence may be had a vista of Manhattan across the broad Hudson.

"HELLO, NICK"

Schenck takes an active interest in business of the concessionaires of the park, and when he appears, "Hello, Nick," may be heard from the smallest frankfurter stand to the manager of the $150,000 scenic railway.

At the age of twenty, Nicholas began his business career as a chemist. He followed this calling for only three years. At that time Marcus Loew had a dream of a chain of motion picture theatres, and Nicholas and his brother, Joseph, joined him in the venture.

The motion picture then was questionable, both as entertainment and investment, five cents being the general price of admission to the flickering and indistinct shadows that danced and grimaced on the muslin sheets that were the screens of that day.

But by the time the projected request, "Just a Moment, Please, While the Operator Changes Reels," became familiar in the land, the public had taken the "movies" to its heart, and the Loew-Schenck fortunes became assured.

A MOVIE A DAY

In the private projection room of the Loew State Building in New York, Schenck views at least one picture a day, deciding the class of theatres in which the picture will be shown.

Sometimes he attends one of his own theatres, where he is known and greeted by everyone from the house manager to the last usher.

He is an ardent fight fan, and was among those who battled for the $40 ring-side seats at Chicago recently.

He does not often attend the legitimate theatre, and his reading interests are centred mainly in theatrical productions.

ONE PHOTO—LOEW'S

Schenck's office is plain and without decoration. The brown-paneled walls are bare except for a small photograph of Marcus Loew.

He recently married Pansy Wilcox. Their home occupies the entire fifteenth floor of a new apartment house in 58th Street.

Schenck never has been abroad. "I'm too busy to travel," he explains.

Premier to Speak In Terminal City

Vancouver, Nov. 14.—It is expected Premier J. D. MacLean will give an address on the results of the Federal Provincial Conference at Ottawa, at the public reception to be held in his honor, in the Hotel Vancouver on his return to the coast. Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith, M.P.P., president of the Provincial Liberal Association, states the date of the reception has not been fixed pending word from the Premier, but may be set for late this week or early next week.

Women Liberals will meet at the party headquarters to-night to discuss the formation of an auxiliary to the ward associations.

The Burnaby Liberals will hold their annual meeting at headquarters November 23.

FLIGHT POSTPONED

San Francisco, Nov. 14.—A soggy field and unpromising flying conditions yesterday delayed Captain Frederick A. Giles from starting on his proposed trans-Pacific aeroplane flight to the Hawaiian Islands and thence to Australia and New Zealand. Giles went up twice yesterday on trial flights from Mills Field, the take-off point here. After his return from the last test, it was announced the hop-off had been postponed until to-morrow or Wednesday.

And notice is further given that after the said 31st day of December, 1927, the Executors of the said deceased will proceed to distribute her estate among the persons entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which they shall then have had notice.

Dated at the City of Victoria this 20th day of October, 1927.

C. W. BRADSHAW, Solicitor for the Said Executors.

Canadian Inventor Sailing Cancelled

According to advice received by the local office of the Canadian National Railways, the sailing of the C.G.M.M. freighter Canadian Inventor from Halifax for this coast December 15, has been cancelled.

The first sailing from Halifax on the winter schedule will thus be on January 14, by the Canadian Winner.

Canadian Winner will be the first vessel to leave the East Coast for the Pacific, sailing from Montreal in a few days. The Canadian Inventor will follow her shortly afterwards.

Two Killed When Mail Train Leaves Track in Montana

Kailspell, Mont., Nov. 14.—F. W. Plank, engineer, and James Joy, fireman, were killed when a Great Northern eight car fast mail train, westbound, went off the track near Red Eagle, formerly Nyack, northwest of here, late yesterday. The cars and the engine turned over, burying Joy under the locomotive, according to information received at the division headquarters at Whitefish. Whether anyone was injured was not known.

Thousands Visit New Matson Liner

San Francisco, Nov. 14.—Matson Navigation Company officials estimated the crowd which yesterday visited the S.S. Malolo, here for a visit before starting on the Honolulu run, at many thousands. Officers on the new steamer declared the crowd was the largest they had ever seen. The ship was handed without an attempt to "rush the gate" and without record of fainting or an attempt by souvenir hunters.

The gas schooner Owl was forced to return to port early yesterday when her deckload began to shift in a choppy sea encountered en route to Bolinas. The schooner left for another attempt at the trip after relaunching the lumber.

The Los Angeles Steamship Company announced yesterday that special round trip rates will be in effect between here, Los Angeles and San Diego for the Thanksgiving holidays. The rates will begin November 22, with the return limit set for November 28.

Seattle, Nov. 14.—The S.S. Justin of the North German Lloyd Line sailed from Seattle yesterday for Hamburg via Vancouver and Portland with what is reported to be the largest cargo of apples to leave Seattle for Europe this season.

The M. Moveria has also sailed with a cargo of apples for Great Britain via Vancouver and Portland. Balfour Guthrie & Company, agents for the Donaldson Line, announced the ship will sail from Portland with her refrigerator capacity of 40,000 boxes of apples filled to the limit.

Engineers Watch Plant Operation

Members of Institute Inspect Processes of Sidney Roofing and Paper Company

Members of the local branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada visited the plant of the Sidney Roofing & Paper Company Limited on Friday, and under the guidance of Robert W. May, new manager, inspected the machinery of the new paper manufacturing branch of the factory on the Songhees Industrial Reservation. The process of beating rags and paper into pulp, the rolling, drying and final waterproofing and tacking of the paper were steps of the industry watched with interest by the guests. The engineers watched the hemlock logs ground into pulp in another section of the plant to be used in the manufacture of another variety of paper. The explanations of Mr. May were illustrated the whole process for the visitors to the thriving industrial centre.

Customer (missing his favorite watter): "Where's Jules to-day?"
Waiter: "He's gone, sir."
"Gone!" "Do you mean he's disappeared?"
"Yes, sir—and with everything he could lay 'is hands on!"

Uncle Wiggily's Molasses
Copyright, 1927, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate
(By HOWARD R. GARIS)

"How about a molasses cake?" asked Uncle Wiggily of Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzey one morning.

"Why, yes, molasses cake is very nice," squeaked the muskrat lady housekeeper, flicking a speck of dust off the piano with the end of her tail.

"Oh, I mean will you bake one for my supper?" asked the rabbit gentleman.

"I guess so, if you'll get me the molasses," promised Nurse Jane.

"What are you two talking about over there?" asked Mrs. Longears, hopping into the room just then. "You can't take Nurse Jane off-adventuring with you now," the rabbit lady told her husband. "She must help me wash the children's cars, so they can go to school."

"I'll get the molasses," promised Nurse Jane.

Luxton

Luxton, Nov. 11.—A party of friends and neighbors paid a surprise visit to the home of Mrs. S. Stuart Hutchison on Friday night in honor of her sister, Miss Joines, who is to be married in Seattle on Monday, November 14. The party had been well planned and a pleasant hour was spent in games and guessing competitions for which prizes were given. The winners being Mrs. R. Brown, Mrs. Dallimore, Mrs. Batchelor and Mrs. Hutchison.

The table was beautifully decorated for supper, which was served at 11 p.m. In the centre stood a pot of flowers which was presented to the bride to be by Mrs. J. Lowe on behalf of the guests. Mrs. Lowe in a few well-chosen words spoke of the esteem in which Miss Joines was held in the community and asked the recipient of the gift to lift the pot of flowers. Upon complying with the request, the pot was found to be cleverly arranged over a handsome silver cake basket which was then disclosed to view. Miss Joines spoke her thanks for the lovely gift and of her pleasure and surprise at the manner of giving.

After supper songs and recitations were given by Mrs. Batchelor, Mrs. Staverman, Mrs. Lowe, Miss Joines, Mrs. Hamsley and Mrs. Page, and the singing of Auld Lang Syne and "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow" brought a very jolly evening to a close. The self-invited guests were Mesdames J. Trace, senior, Beta, T. Madders, A.
